WEST WARMLY WELCOMES TEDDY

Men Climb Poles and Scale Car Roofs to Get Glimpse of African Hunter.

TALKS TO COWBOYS TODAY

Issue in New York, Declares Ex-President, Is Fight Against Bossism.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Aug. 26.—The west gave ex-President Roosevelt a warm welcome today. The people gathered in crowds at all places at which he stopped, on his journey across Iowa and parts of Nebraska, rang bells, tooted whistles, played bands and cheered.

Men stood on roofs, climbed telegraph poles and scrambled on top of cars on the sidings to see him when the crowds on the ground grew so large that there was no other way. They began their welcome before Mr. Roosevelt was out of bed, and kept it up until long after dark. When the day was done, Colonel Roosevelt said that he was greatly pleased by the way the people of the west had welcomed him back again.

He will arrive in Cheyenne in the morning and will make the second set speech of his western tour at the cowboys' carnival. The colonel was up early, he had to be for he was called out of bed by the people of Marshalltown, Ia., who had gone to the station before breakfast to see him and would not be denied. Clad in a raincoat and slippers he made the first speech of the day at 6.45 a. m.

Voice Grows Husky

From then on it was almost a continuous performance, for at every [illegible] at which the train stopped a speech was demanded. The colonel kept on talking until his voice began to grow husky and he was urged to stop. At Dunlap, Ia., someone pulled the bell cord just as Colonel Roosevelt got on the back platform, and with his arm held aloft, in his characteristic pose, was about to speak. The train pulled out leaving the people standing there.

At Logan, the next point, Mr. Roosevelt was allowed less than a minute for his speech but he made good use of it.

Bossism Is New York Issue.

In his speeches today, the colonel continued to talk about honesty in public and private life and to attack the crooked men and the crooked public servant. He also spoke about the situation in his own state while talking to the people of Council Bluffs.

Earlier in the day he issued a statement in regard to the New York progressives and denouncing bossism and corrupt alliances between business and politics. Supplementing this statement later he declared that he would not permit the "old guard" of New York state to pick the issue there. He said that the great issue was not the fight to procure the enactment of a direct nomination primary law but the fight against bossism. He said that his statement referred to the New York situation solely and had no bearing on the situation in national politics.

Meets Senator Cummins

Two staunch progressives had long talks with the colonel today. Senator Cummins got on the train at Ames, Ia., and stayed there until he reached Omaha. At that point James R. Garfield of Cleveland, former secretary of

KILLING BREAKS UP GANG OF ROBBERS

DENVER, Aug. 26.—Investigations following the killing of Charles Dare Sunday while he was attempting to rob a drug store here and the subsequent arrest of Robert Stanley and Arthur Pickard, Dare's alleged accomplices, lead postoffice inspectors here to believe the trio to have been members of a gang that has been looting postoffice safes throughout the west for the last year and a half.

Some of the [illegible] found in the rooms of Stanley and Pickard has been identified as loot from [illegible] and stores in which postoffices were located and the description of Dare tallies with that of a man who had been hanging about the postoffice at [illegible] shortly before the postoffice at that place was [illegible].

PUTS QUESTION UP TO SENATE

HOUSE INITIATIVE BILL IS REPORTED.

Republican Bluff Is Called and Governor May Win First Battle.

Special to The Gazette

DENVER, Aug. 26.—Republican senators have now to consider what they will do with the initiative and referendum bill prepared by the house and sent to the senate. For it is to be put up to them as the phrase goes by the Democratic senators. To do this the Democrats were compelled to recede from the position taken when the senate bill was under consideration, but so beautiful a chance to try to confuse the Republicans was not to be lost merely because an about-face was necessary to secure it. The Democrats claim that five Republican senators can be found to vote for the bill and, holding 19 Democrats in line they say they will get it through.

If it should prove so, then Governor Shafroth will have won his first battle in the special session securing victory over odds that appeared unbeatable. There is one feature of the house bill that may prove its undoing, and that is the section that gives to municipalities the right of initiative and referendum in all city affairs. It is held to be a practical repeal of the antisaloon territory bill and of all legislation upon local option. In the antisaloon territory and local option bills the provisions were made such that frequent reference of the questions to the people is not possible; by the initiative and referendum communities may be kept in a continual uproar. This one section contains the hope of enemies of the bill that it will fail of the needed two-thirds vote when it comes up for third reading.

"It looks as though our bluff has been called," said Senator Stephen, referring to the initiative bill. "And still I cannot believe that Democrats will permit that bill to go through. I think there are five Republican senators who will vote for the initiative, as now in the house bill that is to come before us. Senator Burger made a pretty strong talk Saturday when he offered to vote for it and it now looks as though he and his friends will have to go with the bill."

Members Will Take Pay

A surprising fact came out today concerning the caucus of the Democratic senators. In that caucus a motion was made that the members of the assembly do not accept salaries for the time spent in attendance, and that only the employes be paid. The motion was lost by a tie vote, 9 to 9.

The caucus has decided upon taking up the primary bills next in the senate, having put the railway bill out of the way. The agreement on this latter measure is that the present law shall be re-enacted with certain changes to remove the ban of unconstitutionality. Those sections that exempt from its provisions the small and short roads have been elided. The salaries of the commissioners have been raised from $3,000 to $4,000 per year each and they are to be appointed by the Governor "by and with the consent of the senate." The commission is given powers to regulate rates and fares and appeals from their decisions go to the district court. There is no antipass feature in the bill, that being a part of the Senator Scott public service commission bill.

After some resistance on the part of the Republican senators, who resented the raiding of the funds of the su-

KAISER ASSERTS DIVINE RIGHT TO WEAR CROWN

In Martial Speech German Emperor Proclaims Himself Instrument of Heaven to Govern

KOENIGSBURG, East Prussia, Aug. 26.—Emperor William, who is making a tour of eastern Germany in connection with his visit to Posen for the dedication of his new castle there, delivered a martial speech at the provincial banquet here last night in which he urged the necessity of cooperation with him in his work for the welfare and defense of the country.

Taking as a text the role of Queen Louise of Prussia during the Napoleonic wars he extolled her virtue and pointed out how the memory of her had fired the courage of Prussian soldiers and saved the country.

The lofty figure of Queen Louise teaches us," he said, "that we men should cultivate all the military virtues and be always willing to use them in defense of the country. Above all else it teaches us to maintain the equipment of our army in view of the enormous strides made by our neighbors, for only in being prepared for war does our peace depend."

UNITE FOR THE BENEFIT OF REGION

Civic Organizations Seek Better Streets, Parks and Highways.

TO NAME STANDING BODY

County and City Both Included in Plans of Representative Associations.

A resolution recommending the formation of a permanent committee consisting of representatives of the various business and civic organizations and looking to the attainment of better road improvement and civic beauty, both throughout the county and in Colorado Springs is the outgrowth of a meeting of representatives yesterday from a number of organizations. The resolution which was unanimously adopted, calls for the appointment of a representative from each organization and it will probably be but a short time until the new movement is well under way. One of the chief objects is to bring the influence of public opinion to bear in promoting proposed improvements, and to favor larger expenditures and more efficient work in improving and maintaining roads and streets.

Among those attending the meeting were J. Y. Hayes of the El Paso County Good Roads association, Leonard E. Curtis of the Automobile club of Colorado Springs, E. L. Whitney of the Merchants association, W. W. Williamson of the Real Estate exchange, D. V. Donaldson and A. W. Henderson of the Chamber of Commerce, H. F. Lunt, George A. Krause of the Colorado Springs company and Mrs. George A. Fowler of the Civic league.

A copy of the resolution will be sent to each civic and business [illegible] in the city by A. W. Henderson, who acted as secretary of the meeting. The resolution follows

The Resolution.

Resolved That the El Paso County Good Roads association, the Chamber of Commerce, the Clearing House, the Merchants association, the Real Estate exchange, the Automobile club of Colorado Springs, the Colorado Springs company, the Civic league, the El Paso County Horticultural society and other business and civic associations in Colorado Springs be requested to join in the formation of a permanent joint committee consisting of the presidents or representatives of such associations, for promoting the better maintenance and permanent improvement of the roads of El Paso county, better maintenance and permanent improvement of the streets and parks of Colorado Springs, and beautifying the streets, parks and public places of the city by

1.—Conferences with the county commissioners and the Mayor and City Council of Colorado Springs in regard to the best methods for such maintenance and improvement of roads, streets and parks and assisting them as far as practicable in carrying out such work.

2. Collecting data for the information of the members of the constituent associations and the public generally in regard to work actually done for the above purposes by the county commissioners and the municipal authorities, the present condition of the roads, streets and parks and the work necessary to be done for putting and maintaining them in better order.

3. Bringing the influence of public opinion to bear on railroad companies and other public utility corporations to induce such corporations to do such work as may be necessary on their part for improvement and better maintenance of roads, streets and crossings.

4. Promoting public opinion in favor of larger expenditures and more efficient work in improving and maintaining roads and streets.

Resolved That the secretary of the meeting be requested to send a copy of these resolutions to each of the organizations above named and to request them to act promptly in appointing a representative to act as a member of the said joint committee and to notify the secretary of such action.

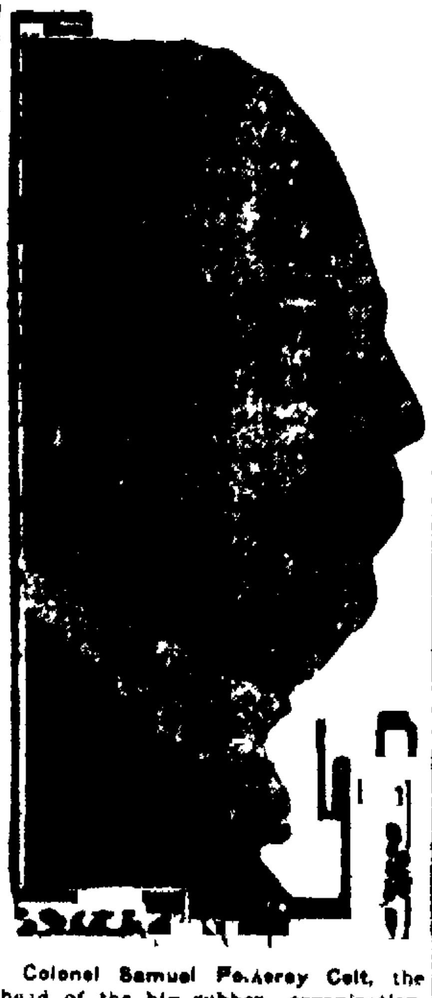

PROF. WM. JAMES IS DEAD

CHOCORUA, N. H., Aug. 26.—Prof. William James of Harvard university, one of America's foremost philosophers died today at his summer home here. Although he had been ill for some time his death was unexpected.

Professor James had been at his summer home here only a week having arrived at Quebec last Friday from Europe where he had been traveling for several months. He had gone abroad originally to be at the bedside of his brother Henry James the noted English author who was sick.

Professor James became ill about a month [illegible] his brother [illegible] [illegible]

MANY SPRINGS PEOPLE TO GO

ATTEND DEDICATION OF PUEBLO Y. M. C. A.

President Downen Extends Invitation to Local Friends and Supporters.

Following the receipt of an invitation from the president of the Pueblo Y. M. C. A. President Flora and many other supporters and friends of the Colorado Springs association are planning to attend the cornerstone laying of the new Pueblo building.

The event will take place August 30, and the principal address of the day will be delivered by Col. Theodore Roosevelt. The general invitation to Colorado Springs people is contained in the following letter to Dr. Flora and the directors of the local Y. M. C. A.

Dr. W. W. Flora, President, and the Board of Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association, Colorado Springs, Colo.

Gentlemen: I am writing to extend to you a cordial invitation to be present at the laying of the cornerstone of the new building for the Young Men's Christian association of Pueblo. This event will occur on Tuesday the thirtieth day of August. Col. Theodore Roosevelt will be present to deliver an address and lay the cornerstone.

I desire also to extend through you the same cordial invitation to all the friends of association work in Colorado Springs.

We are anxious to enlist the sympathy of as many people as possible in this movement and we believe that the presence of Colonel Roosevelt and his address will mean much to the Young Men's Christian association throughout the entire state and western country generally.

With sincere regards I am

Fraternally yours,
THOMAS J. DOWNEN.

SHAFT HOUSE BURNS ON IRONCLAD HILL

Belonged to the Pride of Cripple Creek Mine, Owned by Colorado Springs Men

Fire believed to have been caused from the explosion of powder last night destroyed the shaft house of the Pride of Cripple Creek mine on Ironclad hill in the Cripple Creek district which is operated by the Pride Mining & Leasing company in which a number of local people are interested. Among Colorado Springs people owning stock in the company are A. J. Lawton, E. J. Eaton, C. H. Dudley, S. D. McCracken, W. H. Reed, George W. Musser and Mrs. F. [illegible] McGovney.

The loss on the building will not be [illegible] according to one of the local stockholders, as the shaft house was [illegible]. There was no insurance.

The first warning of the fire came at [illegible] o'clock last night just after the [illegible] had quit work on the day [illegible] that the two explosions were heard [illegible] minutes later the entire shaft house was in flames.

The Pride of Cripple Creek [illegible] the W. P. H. [illegible] [illegible] $50,000 was spent before ore was struck and now it is considered one of the best shipping [illegible] on Ironclad hill.

It is understood that another shaft house will be erected at once in order to delay shipping as little as possible.

THIS CITY TO PROFIT BY PLAN

Much Advertising Arranged in Effort to Get National Gas Men to Denver.

STATE ASSN. MEETS HERE

G. B. Tripp of This City Gives Welcoming Address—Other Speakers.

The members of the Colorado section of the National Commercial Gas association which is holding its semi-annual meeting in this city, at their opening session at the Acacia hotel yesterday decided to adopt" the liveliest crowd of advertising or press agents possible, in their efforts to help Denver secure the 1911 national convention of gas men. In other words, they are going to supply a large number of traveling salesmen with posters and other advertising matter, and the salesmen will be asked to secure billboard space in each city throughout the country which they visit and put up the paper" broadcast.

In cities where there are gas companies they will be expected to see that the advertising matter stands unmolested. The advertising matter will be changed about every four months, and it is believed that in this way Denver will secure nearly a year's advertising over other competitors for the 1911 convention, and what is more important that a sentiment will be created to cause the Queen City of the West to be selected for that important meeting next year. Incidentally the action is taken with a view to the fact that if the 1911 convention is secured for Denver most of the delegates and their friends will take in the Pikes Peak region. Looking to this end the advertising will probably contain frequent references to the beauties of this section. It was decided that the gas [illegible] of the state place advertising "stickers" on all outgoing mail from now on.

The delegates unanimously decided that the following letter be sent to the president and directors of the national association urging upon them Denver's right to recognition in the matter:

Extend Formal Invitation.

Mr. E. N. Wrightington, President and Directors of N. C. G. A., the Boston Consolidated Gas company, Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen: The Colorado state section of the N. C. G. A., assembled at Colorado Springs, August 27, on behalf of Denver and Colorado, extend a cordial invitation to hold the 1911 convention in Denver.

Associations to be progressive must of necessity recognize the growing demands in the membership from the states west of the center of population.

Little emphasis need be made at this time with reference to the many entertainment features which are a part of all conventions held in Colorado, the playground of the United States.

We therefore trust that you will take favorable action in this matter.

CLARE N. STANNARD,
GEORGE B. TRIPP,
JAMES M. DAILY,
Committee

One hundred and thirty-one members of the Colorado section were present at the meeting yesterday, in addition to about 35 visiting gas men from Illinois, Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas and other states together with one from Montreal, Canada.

Several talks were made during the day, the principal one being the address of welcome by George B. Tripp, general manager of the Colorado Springs Light, Heat and Power company. Other speakers were G. W. Faller of the Denver Gas and Electric company on "Distribution"; C. M. Kaltwasser, manager commercial department Colorado Springs Light, Heat and Power company, on "New Business"; H. E. Danner of the Pueblo Gas and Fuel company on "Salesroom and Window Display," and W.

Y. W. C. A. FREE FROM DEBT

The 27th of August is a red letter day for the Young Women's Christian association of Colorado Springs.

Nine years ago with no money in its treasury, the association purchased for a boarding home a piece of property known as the Dirkee place at [illegible] North Weber street. This purchase [illegible] $17,000, a larger sum than the price of the property, as money was needed to make alterations and additions and furnishing.

Most of this debt was paid in small [illegible] installments [illegible] gradual liquidation is due especially to the wise and careful management of Mrs. [illegible] president of the association from its formation until two years ago. As a result the boarding home is now free from incumbrance and self-supporting.

FOREST FIRES PREVENTABLE

LOSSES DUE TO PARSIMONIOUS POLICY.

Mr. Pinchot Scores Members of Congress Who Defeated Appropriations.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Gifford Pinchot of the National Conservation association and former head of the government forest service in a statement issued today holds that the loss of property and life in the recent and present forest fires was unnecessary.

The disastrous results he says are traceable to the unpreparedness to deal with the fire situation. He scores members of Congress who have opposed appropriations for the proper equipment of forest rangers and in that connection names Senator Heyburn of Idaho, whose home town Wallace suffered serious loss, Senator Carter of Montana and Representative Mondell of Wyoming. The statement follows:

"I am proud of the splendid work the men of the forest service have been doing against the western forest fires. Many of them have given their lives to protect the homes of settlers and the forests on which the prosperity of the western people depend. To my mind their conduct is beyond all praise.

Fires Unnecessary

Forest fires are preventable. It is a good thing for us to remember at this time that nearly or quite all of the loss, suffering and death the fires have caused was wholly unnecessary.

A fire in the forest is the same kind of a thing as a fire in the city. There is only one way to fight either. The fire department of every city is organized with the prime idea of getting to the fire when it is young. So with the forest fires. The time to conquer them is before they grow strong. If a forest is equipped with roads, trails, telephone lines and a reasonable number of men for patrol, there is no more likelihood that great fires will be able to get started than there is that great conflagrations like the Chicago fire will get started in a city with a modern fire department. Under rare circumstances they may, but the chances are against it.

Good Work Done by Service.

"The forest service has done wonders with its handful of [illegible] men. It has put out every year many thousands of small fires, any one of which, under favorable conditions might have developed into a conflagration which 10,000 men could not stop. This year because of the great drouth there were many fires, and the rangers were too few.

"The lesson from these fires is perfectly clear. When a city suffers from a great fire it does not retrench in its fire department but strengthens it. That is what the nation must do in the national forests.

"The men in Congress like Heyburn, Carter and Mondell who have made light of the efforts of the forest service to prepare itself to prevent just such a calamity as this have in effect been fighting on the side of the fires against the general welfare. If even a small fraction of the loss from the present fires had been expended in additional patrol and preventive equipment, some or perhaps nearly all of the loss could have been avoided.

"I believe our people will take this lesson to heart and insist that the settlers and their wives and children, the lumbermen and the miners, and the $2,000,000,0000 worth of national property in the national forests shall be adequately protected.

IDENTITY OF WRECK VICTIMS IN DOUBT

Bones Said to Represent Two Additional Bodies Found in Sack Overlooked at Morgue.

DURAND, Mich., Aug. 26.—To add to the difficulty of identifying the charred bones of the victims of Wednesday night's Grand Trunk wreck near here bones said to represent two additional bodies were found in the morgue tonight in a sack that had been overlooked yesterday. This brings the number of dead to eight.

Among the people for whom inquiries are being made are Miss Belle Scott, a school teacher of Chicago who was en route to Toronto and the daughter of George Jagmann of Chicago.

H. B. Jeffers of Washington tonight almost positively identified as his wife the body that was yesterday identified as Mrs. Lewis Squire of Chicago.

RANGER HALM'S PARTY IS SAFE

79 Employes of Forest Service Known to Be Dead and 66 Are Missing.

FLAMES BEING CONTROLLED

War Department Refuses Request to Bombard the Skies for Rain

MISSOULA, Mont., Aug. 26.—District Forester W. B. Greeley received a dispatch at 11 o'clock tonight announcing the safety of the missing party of 15 under Ranger Joseph B. Halm. The message was dated Iron Mountain, Mont., and came from Ranger Haines, who left Tuesday for the head waters of the St. Joe river in search of the Halm party.

In addition to the good news concerning the Halm party, District Forester Greeley also received further reports reducing the list of dead and missing employes of the forestry service. These reports straightened out some confusion in previous telegrams and reduced the number of known dead to 73 and the missing to 66.

The list of known dead now includes the following:

Idaho, 16; Big creek, 18; Setzer creek, 24; Placer creek, 16; Hocks camp, 1; Pend d'Oreille, 2; Montana, 12; Cabinet, 4; Bullion mine, 8.

Including settlers and loggers the known dead number 146.

Bullion Victims Fire Fighters

Heretofore the forestry office has not included the dead at the Bullion mine in Montana, being under the impression that these men were not in the employ of the government, but tonight's developments showed that they had been engaged to fight fires.

The list of missing includes the following:

At the Setzer creek camp 5, Ranger Thenon's crew, 5; at Indian lake, 34; Ranger Hollingshead's crew on Big creek, 27.

It is confidently expected that news will be received in a day or two that the Thenon party is safe.

Some missing members of Hollingshead's crew, it is thought, are in the hospital at St. Joe, Idaho. Ranger Hollingshead has returned to the forest to rescue the unaccounted-for members of his party and no definite information is obtainable as to the number of his men in the hospital.

Conditions More Favorable.

District Forester Greeley said tonight that the conditions in the different districts where fighting the flames has been resumed are very favorable and the flames are gradually being controlled. The cold nights which are now prevailing, and the absence of winds are greatly facilitating the fire fighters. Mr. Greeley declares the safety of the towns in the fire district is now assured.

Several fires are raging on the Nesperic reserve in the western part of Idaho.

MANY DEATHS DUE TO DISREGARD OF ORDERS

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 26.—Ranger Louis Fitting and a party of 34 who went into the Upper Clearwater by way of Lost Horse pass have not been heard from since the big fire of Saturday and Sunday and rescuing parties are searching for them.

nearly all of the dead were emergency men sent out by employment agencies in the cities.

Stories told by survivors indicate that, if the employes had been under discipline and had obeyed orders, the loss of life would have been much less One ranger kept his men from stampeding by threatening them with a rifle

Near Avery, 20 men, warned to flee for their lives, started down the mountain till they found a clearing, went into camp and perished On Setzer creek the 24 men who died had been warned to leave, but they were comfortable in camp and declined to move. On Setzer creek also, one man who disobeyed orders was obliged to shoot himself to escape cremation, while his 89 obedient comrades were only singed.

TORTURES ENDURED BY REFUGEES IN TUNNEL

SPOKANE, Aug. 26.—George Ryan of Toronto, Canada, one of the 30 men imprisoned in the War Eagle mine, Saturday night, of whom six perished, said today.

"There were 75 of us under Ranger Pulaski. We first took refuge in the tunnel of the J. I. C. mine, but it was not safe, and after we had been there a short time 30 of us went down the creek a mile to the War Eagle. I don't know what became of the rest of the men.

"We took horses in the tunnel with us. Pulaski told us to lie as close to the floor of the tunnel as we could or close to the walls. We tried to block up the entrance of the tunnel with blankets, but the fire burned them off as fast as we put them up.

"The flames licked in 15 feet from the mouth like a blast. The smoke was suffocating. After we had been in the tunnel an hour and a half Pulaski, who was nearest the mouth, lost consciousness

"Two men who got scared and rolled around in the middle of the tunnel, instead of keeping by the edge or on the floor, died across my knees

"Nearly all of us during the six hours were lying in water that dripped from the roof and walls of the tunnel.

"When the fire finally passed and the tunnel cleared a little nearly half of us were unconscious Five were dead

"We found a sixth man, burned to a crisp, a short distance up the creek from the tunnel, and we don't know where the other members of the party are The two horses were nearly suffocated and their eyes were falling out of their heads We had to shoot them"

FORESTER GRAVES REVIEWS SITUATION

MISSOULA, Mont Aug 26—A general review of conditions pertaining to the present forest fires in Montana and Idaho was given to the Associated Press tonight by United States Forester Henry S. Graves. In his statement, Mr. Graves said that, while the situation was still critical, rapid headway in controlling the fires is being made. He believed that between 80 and 90 men employed by the forest service had been killed.

Mr. Graves' statement follows, in part:

"During the present year the forest fires on the national forests have been the most serious since the forests were established. This has been due to the very severe drouth which, in certain regions of the northwest, is the worst experienced for many years. The forests have been extremely dry, and there have been almost constant high winds.

"Under these conditions a small spark is sufficient to start a severe fire in a very short time. The forest service has maintained an increased force. Innumerable fires have sprung up. The patrolmen have been able to extinguish the bulk of those starting near the roads before they reached any considerable proportion. Thus, in this district, over 3,000 fires have been put out in the forests.

"The fires starting in the less accessible portions of the forests could not be reached as quickly, and, consequently, many of them became well developed. Since the establishment of the forests the forest service has been constructing trails and telephone lines in the forests as rapidly as the funds appropriated by Congress permitted. Many parts of the northwestern forests are, however, still without such communication, and it is chiefly the fires in such areas which have caused the present disaster in Idaho and Montana.

"On Saturday night, August 20, a terrific hurricane arose, fanning the smoldering fires into life. Sparks were blown over the fire lines and new fires sprung up. In several places the flames swept upon the heads of the fire fighters and overcame them before they could escape. Since the big fires of Saturday night and Sunday the fire-fighting patrol was reorganized, and now the flames seem to be more under control.

"The situation is still critical, but rapid headway is being made.

"It is believed that, altogether, between 80 and 90 men employed by the forest service in fighting fires have been killed. The rescue parties have not yet all reported, so a final statement cannot be made. It is impossible as yet to estimate just how much property was destroyed."

PRESIDENT IS URGED TO ORDER BOMBARDMENT

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 26.—President Taft has been appealed to for an order instructing the war department to comply with the request sent yesterday that the coast forts in the Puget sound artillery district unite with the warships in firing their big guns in the hope of starting a general rainfall

The appeal was signed by the Washington Forest Fire association, the Washington Conservation society and other organizations of lumbermen and loggers. The joint message says:

"War department telegraphs objections to cost of firing heavy guns on Pacific coast of $10,000 for each discharge We respectfully submit that forest fire organizations are spending $20,000 per day and unorganized efforts are costing vastly more. Increasing fires jeopardizze $3,000,000,000 worth of standing timber in Washington alone. The air is full of smoke and moisture here, and conditions are ideal for a rain-producing trial. We earnestly hope your excellency will favorably act upon our request"

In spite of the attitude of the war department the business men of Seattle and the officers of the Forest Fire association believe that if sufficient pressure is brought to bear their request will be granted To that end they have started a deluge of messages to Washington and Beverly.

WASHINGTON, Aug 26—Estimating the cost of the experiment at about $100,000, the war department today declined requests to order a bombardment of the skies by all its guns on Puget sound and at the mouth of the Columbia river in an effort to bring on rain in the burning forest districts of the northwest

In addition to the objection of cost, the army regarded the project as futile The navy department, to which a similar request was made, expressed its willingness to co-operate with the army with 6 or 10-inch guns, the only ones at its disposal

TAFT WILL NOT MIX IN NEW YORK FIGHT

President Feels Keenly False Light in Which He Was Placed by Anonymous Statements.

BEVERLY Aug. 26—Indications continue to multiply here that Mr Taft's participation in the New York state fight is ended for good The President is not a resident of New York and does not feel it to be the province of the President to interfere

Mr Taft was drawn into politics reluctantly He was glad to see various leaders as they called, and he urged upon them the importance of an amicable adjustment of affairs prior to the state convention This, it appears, was impossible, and now the fight goes to the convention. Mr. Taft will keep "hands off"

The President, it is said, feels far more keenly than he let appear in his letter to Mr Griscom the false light he was placed in by anonymous statements from Oyster Bay and New York He had every reason to believe that leaders close to Mr. Roosevelt knew exactly what his attitude was, and that they had first-hand knowledge that Mr. Taft had done none of the underhand things charged against him

It is pointed out here by Mr. Taft's friends that Lloyd C. Griscom, president of the New York county Republican committee, who stood sponsor for Mr Roosevelt, was in President Taft's library at Burgess Point when the President sent a long telegram to Vice President Sherman, since made public, telling him to do nothing without the approval of Mr. Roosevelt which could in any way involve the administration.

Mr Griscom, it is said here, took a copy of this message back to New York with him. Armed with this telegram, which outlined the President's position, and fresh from a conference with Mr. Taft, Mr. Griscom went almost immediately to see Colonel Roosevelt.

In view of these facts, Mr. Taft was thoroughly wrought up when he read the subsequent newspapers. He wrote his letter to Mr. Griscom as a matter of satisfaction to himself, and declared, as he sent it, that it was a matter of entire indifference to him whether it was ever made public or not.

CHOLERA REACHES VIENNA

Disease Spreads From Russia Into Hungary and Is Carried to Austrian Capital by Travelers.

VIENNA, Aug. 26.—Cholera, it is officially announced has broken out in this city. After throwing doubt for two days on the reports of cases in Vienna, the health department of the ministry of the interior today announced that bacteriological examination of several suspected cases has established that the patients were suffering from Asiatic cholera. The victims are persons from Hungary, into which kingdom the disease spread from Russia.

BUCHAREST, Roumania, Aug. 26.—The Roumanian army maneuvers for 1910 were today countermanded as a precautionary measure in view of the epidemic of cholera raging in South Russia, near the Roumanian frontier.

ST. PETERSBURG. Aug. 26.—A slight improvement in cholera conditions in south Russia is shown by the latest reports.

Professor Rein at the head of the special sanitary commission despatched to south Rusia to combat the outbreak, reports that the epidemic is on the decrease.

Reports to the sanitary bureau for the week of August 14 to 20, inclusive, give 16,106 new cases and 7,743 deaths, as compared with 23,944 cases and 10,722 deaths for the previous week, making a grand total of 121,051 cases and 58,030 deaths for this year's epidemic.

INVESTIGATION ENDED

PAWHUSKA, Okla., Aug. 26.—The committee of the House of Representatives which has been investigating the Gore bribery charges and the McMurray land contracts completed its work in Oklahoma today and adjourned to meet in Washington in November Working for almost four weeks, the committee, headed by Representative Charles H Burke of South Dakota, who is chairman of the House committee on Indian affairs, has examined more than 100 witnesses and has taken testimony that will fill two printed volumes.

The committee issued a letter to Congressman B S McGuire of the First Oklahoma district, exonerating him

HEARING IS BEGUN IN RAILROAD GRAFT CASE

Change of Venue Refused to Former Illinois Central Officials Charged With Frauds.

CHICAGO, Aug 26 Attorneys for three former high officials of the Illinois Central railroad, Frank B Harriman, formerly general manager, John M Taylor, storekeeper, and Charles L Ewing, superintendent of lines north of the Ohio river, received a setback on the first day of their criminal trial today when Judge Brugkemeyer refused the motion for a change of venue. The men are charged with participating in frauds by which the railroad is alleged to have been mulcted of more than $1,000,000 through inflated car repair bills.

Despite objections by attorneys for the defense, names of Ira G. Rawn, former president of the Monon route, who met death recently by a bullet wound, J E Baker and William Renshaw, former superintendents of maintenance, were brought into the case today through the testimony of Theophile Reuther, formerly general manager of the Osterman Car company and now employed as a locomotive engineer for the Illinois Central.

Reuther testified as to the organization of the Osterman company, a concern to which the Illinois Central cars were sent for repairs He declared he had been ousted from his position as general manager and director, that John M. Taylor, one of the defendants, might be made director. He declared the company was organized in 1906 to make grain doors; that it later made cement blocks and subsequently entered the business of repairing cars for the Illinois Central.

"Did Mr. Taylor become financially interested?" asked Attorney Walter L. Fisher, who is aiding Assistant State's Attorney Barnes.

"Yes, he became a 'stockholder,'" said Mr. Reuther.

Counsel for the defense here sought to prevent further examination of the witness, asserting that the Osterman company was not on trial.

COLLISION FATAL TO FIVE TRAINMEN

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug. 26.—Five men were killed and one badly injured when two heavy freight trains on the river route division of the Missouri Pacific collided headon near Blackwater, about 65 miles west of here, early today.

The men reported killed were:

C. H. Roth, brakeman, Jefferson City.

D. E. Finnell, engineer, Jefferson City.

C. H. Roth, brakman, Jefferson City.

T. C. Fredericks, fireman, Sedalia

George Taggart, firemen, Jefferson City.

The injured:

Brakeman Gannoway, Jefferson City.

The collision was due to the failure of the operator at Booneville to display his signal board. The engines and many of the cars were piled together without warning to the train crew, members of which were buried beneath the debris.

DISORDERS FEARED AT PORTUGUESE ELECTION

Clerical Leaders Inciting Outbreaks as Protest Against Liberal Policy of Government.

LISBON (Via Frontier), Aug. 25. Serious apprehensions of disorder during the election for the cortes, which occurs throughout Portugal, August 28, are entertained here, due to the persistent reports that the clerical party leaders are preparing outbreaks as protests against the liberal policy of the government in its relations with the Vatican.

The government is taking the most energetic measures of precaution and has recalled every officer, soldier and sailor on leave. The warships of the Portuguese navy have been distributed among the various Portuguese ports to assist the military and civil authorities if disturbances break out. As the government telegraph offices refuse to accept dispatches referring to the possibility of disorders, this dispatch is sent to the frontier by train.

BILBAO Spain, Aug 26.—The Workmen's federation today proclaimed a general strike throughout Spain, to begin next Monday, August 29.

MADRID, Aug. 26.—Mgr Vico, the papal nuncio at the Spanish court, today applied for an interview with King Alfonso. No statement of the purpose of the interview is made but it is suggested that the Vatican desires to take up personally with the king the subjects of the conflict between the Spanish government and the Vatican.

ment, assemblages of the people or resolutions of the people, and that he saw in himself the chosen instrument of heaven, and that, as such he regarded his duty as regent and ruler"

"German women," said the emperor, "should learn from Queen Louise that their duty does not lie in participating in public meetings and societies, nor in attaining supposed rights in which they may be able to do the same things as men, but in quiet work at home and in the family

"They should train the young generations, before all things, in obedience and respect towards age They should make it clear to their children, and to their children's children, that they should not strive to live at the cost of others, nor at the cost of their fatherland, but that, on the contrary, they should have the fatherland alone in mind, devoting all their strength and intelligence to the welfare of the country"

In closing, the emperor said

"Considering myself as the instrument of the Master, regardless of passing view and opinions, I go my way, which is solely devoted to the prosperity and peaceful development of our fatherland."

Press Criticises Emperor.

BERLIN, Aug 26—The speech delivered last night by Emperor William of Germany before the provincial banquet at Koenigsburg, in which he referred to the Prussian crown as bestowed by God's grace and not by parliaments or people's assemblies, and laid a lance against the present movement for women's suffrage, is the political sensation of the hour

The leading organs of the German press devote extended comment to it, generally criticising the emperor's utterances, and there are indications that the discourse will have a deep political effect upon the country, nearly all the Berlin papers discussing the subject in connection with the political crisis of November, 1908, when the publication by the London Daily Telegraph of one interview with the emperor aroused a storm against the uncontrolled public speaking of the emperor.

The Vossiche Zeitung, the Tageblatt, the Post and other papers point out the constitutional character of the kingdom of Prussia in the empire and inquire whether the chancellor, Dr. Von Bethemann Holleweg, was privy to the emperor's purpose of delivering such a speech. They predict that it will lead to a renewed discussion of the emperor's constitutional position when the reichstag reassembles in November.

The strongly monarchist Tageleiche Rundschau, the favorite journal of army officers, says:

"This speech means a storm. Never before has Emperor William set into such clever relief his romantic, medieval idea of his nonresponsibility to man's judgment, of his not being bound by the constitutional co-operation of the people and of ruling by God's free grace, against all those convictions and feelings which today determine our existence as a state."

SEAMEN PLAN FOR STRIKE

COPENHAGEN, Aug 26.—Delegates from all the seamen's unions of America and Europe, at the international congress of sailors and marine firemen, in session here, today adopted a resolution to declare an international strike unless the shipowners of every country concerned agree to the formation of a board of conciliation to deal with the grievances of the men.

In the discussion, a date two to three months hence was given as the time at which the strike probably would be called unless the grievances were adjusted.

PUTS QUESTION

preme court, the senate passed, on second reading, the bill to provide for the payment of the expenses of the special session.

Antipass Bill on Calendar.

All of the morning session in the house was spent in trying to revive the Helbig antipass bill, which had been reported adversely from committee. At last it was ordered on the calendar, but before that was accomplished members expressed themselves on the pass question in special and general. It was surprising to find how many believed the pass to be an evil, but a necessary one The Helbig bill prohibits public officers from accepting passes and designs to compel railroads to furnish complete lists of the passes issued whenever called upon to do so. Mr Helbig urged that passes should be either prohibited altogether or railroads should be compelled to issue them to all public officers, making no discrimination. If they were compelled to issue passes, he said, there could be no obligation or return insisted upon frim legislators and other public servants

Mr. Henahen's "headless ballot" bill which was found to be without the enacting clause has been reintroduced in proper form and has been made a special order for consideration in the house at 2 o'clock tomorrow. It may have to go over to Monday, because the house adjourned over Saturday It will hold its place on the calendar being the next bill to come up for second reading

Adjournment over Saturday was almost forced by the number of members requesting to be excused for that day Every man had a good excuse, private business or unexpected complications at home, that required his immediate presence, and those members who were averse to permitting any more members to get away from the regular sessions were overborne by the valid reasons presented.

Solicit Roosevelt for Address.

Both houses have decided upon inviting Roosevelt to address the assembly when he is here Monday Senators Stephen and Croke and Representatives Trindle Lahrritter and Lafferty were named on the committee

Some representatives, especially those who have ambitions to return for the Eighteenth assembly were somewhat surprised today when a lobby of temperance women appeared These women explained that they had nothing to say especially about the special session, but would like promises of aid in the Eighteenth. Not a representative was sure enough of his return to give any favorable response. A number did reply that if the women hoped for any temperance legislation in the Eighteenth, they would have to work desperately for the defeat of the initiative and referendum, now in the senate, whose effect will be, according to report, to render null and void all the antisaloon and local option legislation now on the statute books.

Republicans Hold Conference.

The Republican senators met in conference today and, as a result, it is understood have practically agreed on the following program.

The initiative measure may receive six Republican votes, one more than is required for the passage of the bill. But the six Republican senators who may vote for it declare their action is solely in order to allow the Democrats to get the initiative and referendum before the people. They do not favor the bill as drawn by the Democrats, they emphasize the fact that the Republicans have not been allowed to change so much as a punctuation mark in the measure, and they reserve the right to oppose the bill before the people in the fall campaign, if they so desire, regardless of the fact that they voted for it.

This, it is understood, is what the Republicans favor tonight. Conditions are such, however, that an entirely different program may be carried out when the senate actually gets down to business.

Lineman Becomes a Human Torch on Top of Pole

FORT COLLINS, Colo., Aug. 26.—To become a human torch on top of an electric light pole was the fate that befell John Pringle, a lineman, this afternoon. He was making a connection when the wires became short-circuited. The sparks set fire to the oil in a transformer attached to the pole and instantly the flames enveloped the lineman.

Pringle was attached to the pole by his body belt and could not free himself. A fellow lineman climbed the pole and brought him down.

His garments had been burned from his body and the flesh from the waist to the knees was seared. His injuries are not necessarily fatal.

SILVER CUP FOR BIG ATTENDANCE

The announcement that the Spokane chamber of commerce has presented a silver trophy cup valued at $100 as a premium for the largest delegation from any commercial organization or the largest delegation from any state or province attending the Dry Farming congress in Spokane, October 3 to 6, has aroused much enthusiasm throughout the west.

This prize is offered to stimulate enthusiasm among the delegates who are coming from the larger cities, and it will have a tendency for those from smaller towns and places to unite with others from their state and enter the contest as a state delegation. Towns and cities within a radius of 100 miles of Spokane are barred from competition for this cup, thus giving to the delegates from a distance an opportunity to work up the enthusiasm that will bring many to the congress.

Every commercial club in the United States is eligible to enter the contest, with the exception of those around Spokane. Several in the Canadian provinces are already canvassing their members and urging them to join in an excursion to this city. Colorado Springs, Missoula, Mont., and other cities have promised large delegations, and all may enter the contest.

"We have also received assurances from numerous cities in the northwest that they will be represented by exhibits," said John T. Burns, secretary of the congress, "and we look for record attendance during the exposition."

HOLD BOY FOR ALLEGED THEFT OF SILVERWARE

Charged with carrying away a quantity of silverware from the Antlers hotel, where he was employed as a waiter, W. B. Johnson was arrested yesterday by the police. It is understood that a complaint will be sworn to against him today. Silver spoons, knives, forks and salt and pepper boxes, according to the police, were found in the boy's room in a boarding house at Nevada avenue and Kiowa street. He is said to have confessed to the police.

H. Murphy of the Denver Gas and Electric company, on "Credits and Collections."

Entertainment Features.

While the men were in convention yesterday, the women visitors were entertained with an automobile trip through the Garden of the Gods, and later made the Crystal park trip. Last night all the visitors and their friends were entertained at an informal dinner and ball at the Mansions hotel in Manitou.

The meeting here will end today. The election of officers will not be held until the next state meeting in June. This afternoon at 4 o'clock the delegates and other visitors will ascend Mount Manitou, where the burro races will be held, followed by a picnic supper and a moonlight trip down the Manitou Scenic Incline road.

The official program for this morning follows:

"Good Service From the Customer's Viewpoint," Platt Rogers, Jr., the Denver Gas and Electric company.

"Ways and Means of Creating a Market for By-Products," R. L. Goodale, manager of the Grand Junction Electric, Gas and Manufacturing company.

"Should Gas Companies Handle Appliances? If So, Can Proper Co-operation and Friendly Relations Be Maintained With Dealers?" W. C. Duncan, manager commercial department of the Pueblo Gas and Fuel company.

"An Outsider's Views of the Relation Between Public Service Corporations and Their Customers," George L. Knapp, editorial writer, Denver News.

Mr. Tripp's address, which contained a number of points of great interest to the gas men, is given below in full:

Tripp's Address

It affords me a great deal of pleasure at this time on behalf of our gas company here to welcome you to our beautiful city, of which we have every reason to be proud.

You may have noticed by the recent census reports that we had increased to a population of 29,078, which, when 1,933 tre ?? were added, gave us an actual population of 31,011, exclusive of tourists and our summer visitors, or an increase of 47.07 per cent since 1900, so you will appreciate the fact that we are rapidly pushing Denver and Pueblo for first honors of the state.

A convention like the one we are about to open is extremely important from both the standpoints of engineering and business. It brings the engineers and commercial men together, and although each class thinks it the most important branch of our organizations, it is meetings like these that tend to hammer the conclusion home that without co-operation of the two no gas company can attain the maximum of efficiency.

I think that it is also fitting at this time to call the attention of the representatives of the gas companies, who, with few exceptions, are members of our association, to the recent attacks made by certain newspapers. "The upbuilders of the state," on utility corporations in their efforts to block the passage of a bill through the legislature for a utility commission. One paper stated that although there is no crying demand for such a commission, Colorado must put itself in a position where it can protect the people's interest, etc. I want to say, and to go on record at this time, that utility corporations have no fear of investigations conducted in an honest manner by an unbiased, competent board of examiners, whoever they may be. Colorado, controlled as it has been, first by one political faction and then another, has not seemed to the average central station manager to have been in a condition where an unbiased state utility commission would have been possible.

Outside Aid Required.

We can not hope to obtain all the necessary finances in Colorado, either for constructing new plants or extending the old ones, and therefore must seek for such assistance elsewhere. It therefore becomes necessary for each and everyone of us to do what we can to counteract the effect of scurrilous attacks in various forms against gas companies. Newspapers can be of great assistance to all of us in presenting facts and not rumors to the public, and every encouragement and support should be given to the newspapers that are conducted on broad-gauged lines.

Let us improve our facilities for reaching each consumer who makes a complaint so that such complaint may be satisfactorily and promptly adjusted. Also make reasonable rates for our commodity that will cover the costs and give us a fair return on the money invested, making differential rates when the character of the business of itself warrants such a course.

An efficient commercial department does much to counteract either real or imaginary wrongs sustained by consumers, and the quicker your commercial representatives get into action in such matters the more quickly will the spreading of an infection of corporation abuse be stopped. Only by the use of such methods can utility companies progress and keep abreast of the times.

Give a Square Deal.

In fact, my advice to you is to so conduct your business that each and every consumer gets a square deal, and in that event federal, state or municipal commissions, when they come into the field, can do nothing but place their stamp of approval on the conduct of such an organization.

It has been my experience that utility companies have no objections to honest criticism of their policies or actual methods of operation, but they do object most strongly to investigations which are concocted for ulterior motives, and for which no general demand has been made on the part of the consumer.

After all, our various companies are simply merchants selling various commodities, and the fact that our investment is participated in by widows, estates and many individuals, should be no reason for placing utility companies under suspicion without just cause. Our companies should be the first ones to participate in all civic movements for the betterment of local conditions.

In closing I wish to impress upon each member the importance of placing before each traveling representative of the gas manufacturers our desire to hold the next annual convention of the National Commercial Gas association in Colorado, and suggest as one of the plans to be followed out that we adopt a stamp in color, suitably engraved to be used by each and every gas company from this time on until the convention place is settled upon, on all outgoing mail other than local, which, if followed through, will at least call the attention of the members of the national association that we expect them in 1911 in Colorado—the only state, after all, that has real convention climate all the year around.

the interior, joined the party. He is going to Cheyenne. Gifford Pinchot, former chief forester, who was expected to be at Cheyenne, was not able to leave Washington until today and will meet Mr. Roosevelt in Denver.

Congressman Walter I. Smith, a staunch supporter of Speaker Cannon, also talked with Mr Roosevelt today. Introducing him to the people of Council Bluffs, Mr. Smith referred to the colonel as the greatest American.

Accompanied by Large Party.

When Colonel Roosevelt left New York all the members of the party traveled in two cars which were attached to the regular trains.

The number of cars has grown until now there are six of them, made up in a special train. At Chicago one car was attached carrying a party of men who are going along merely to see what happens. George Ade is one of them. Three more cars were added today and the railway officers gave up all hope of hauling them on the regular train.

Asked to Act as Mediator.

The mayor of Galesburg, Ill., telegraphed today asking the colonel to try and settle the coal strike in Illinois. Colonel Roosevelt replied.

"Exceedingly sorry, but absolutely impossible for me to go into a matter of this kind at present."

Archie Roosevelt met his father in Omaha this afternoon, and rode with him as far as Fremont, Neb. He has been staying on Seth Bullock's ranch in North Dakota.

Winds Up Day at 10:30.

LEXINGTON, Neb., Aug. 26.—Colonel Roosevelt wound up the day at Lexington, making a three-minute speech. He did not intend to speak at Lexington, but a good-sized crowd had stayed up to see him and he did not wish to disappoint them. After he had finished speaking, he said he was going to bed. He made his first speech of the day at 6:45 o'clock this morning, and was kept hard at it until he left Lexington at 10:30 o'clock tonight.

The Nebraska senators, Norris Brown and Elmer J. Burkett, got on the train at Kearney and talked with the colonel for a few minutes. When the colonel went out to address the crowd at Kearney he took the senators with him.

"I am glad to see you two senators," he said. "I shall always remember with pleasure and gratitude the help given me by Mr. Burkett when he was in the House of Representatives and I was in the White House, in getting a satisfactory tariff arrangement with Cuba which has knit two nations closer together."

Senator Burkett is in the midst of a campaign for re-election.

Explains New York Situation.

CARROLL, Ia., Aug. 26.—Theodore Roosevelt definitely aligned himself with the progressives of New York state in a statement which he issued on the train today as he was traveling across Iowa. It read:

"The progressives are emphatically in favor of taking a real step forward about direct primaries, substantially on the lines of Governor Hughes' proposition, but this is not the main issue.

The main issue is that we stand against bosses big or little and in favor of general popular rule, not only at the elections but within the party organizations and above all that our war is ruthless against every species of corruption, big and little, and against the alliance between corrupt business and corrupt politics, as to which it has been found that too often in the past the boss system has offered a peculiarly efficient and objectionable means of communication.

"We are against the domination of the party and the public by special interests, whether these special interests are political, business or a compound of the two.

Strenuous Hour in Council Bluffs.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Aug. 26.—Colonel Roosevelt's stay of an hour in Council Bluffs was of the strenuous order. He was met at the station by a large delegation of citizens, was escorted to a waiting automobile and was driven at the head of a long line of automobiles to a platform in Bayliss park, where he made a brief address.

Business houses and residences along the line of parade were well decorated and the streets for the entire distance were lined with people. An immense gathering awaited Roosevelt's arrival at the speakers' stand in the park. Mr. Roosevelt was introduced by Representative Walter I. Smith, a staunch friend of Speaker Cannon and one of the strongest men in the "old guard" in Congress. It was noticeable that although Mr. Smith is well known here, when Mr. Roosevelt concluded his remarks there were many calls for Mr. Cummins.

In the course of his short stay here, Colonel Roosevelt visited J. F. Wilcox, a radical progressive Republican.

At the park the colonel had hardly begun to speak when some one called out: "How about New York?"

Stands for Political Cleanliness.

"Well, there is the New York issue," he said. "There it is perfectly plain that I stand primarily for political cleanliness and decency and for popular rule. Sometimes I do not agree with all the people. I try my best to represent them as far as I can. I will do anything for them except that which is wrong, and that I will not do for any man.

"You can not make this government prosper permanently unless we have honesty in public as well as in private life.

"It is our duty to war against corruption in every form—corruption in [illegible] public life, corruption in business life, and more than that," he continued, "distrust the man who ever appeals to you on the ground that he is against the corruption of one particular class, but can not see corruption in some one else. I know financiers who are bitter against corruption in small politicians or in labor leaders but who can not see it in great business men or concerns."

Incidents of Trip Through Iowa.

It was not Colonel Roosevelt's intention to stop at Marshalltown, but he did so in response to an earnest appeal. The people of Marshalltown sent a telegram protesting against being ignored during the tour of their state.

At Ogden a brass band was on hand to welcome the colonel with a patriotic air, and a tall man held up twins which gave an opportunity to Colonel Roosevelt to express his views concerning his favorite crop, that of children.

At Jefferson the colonel expressed his views concerning the desirability of improving farm life.

"I am glad to see the cities grow, provided they do not grow at the expense of the country," he said. "The man on the farm is the man on whom our whole civilization depends. The growth and progress of the country depend upon him. I want to see conditions kept favorable for him and his wife, don't forget that."

A company of state militia met the special train at Carroll and escorted Colonel Roosevelt to a nearby stand, from which he spoke.

Colonel Roosevelt promised Charles Clark of Davenport, Republican candidate for Congress, to make a campaign speech for him in Dawson, Ia., November 2 or 3.

Believes in Iowa People.

The need of placing the general interests of the country above all private interests was Colonel Roosevelt's theme in his speech at Denison.

"Iowa is the state in which the people are fortunately typical of what the American people should be," he said. "In fact, they place the general interests before the special interests. This, my friends, is the problem that is before the American people today: we must subordinate special interests to the public good.

"I want to stand for the corporations when they are right so that they can have conditions under which they can earn dividends, but corporations are not entitled to votes and are not entitled to the ownership of any public [illegible] plane it must be put and kept if we are to continue to make the great republic of the west what it must be made, the greatest example that the world has ever seen of successful popular government, of government by and for the people.

"I believe in your crops in your soil, but I believe more in your people. It is the men and women that are the best crop of your state. When you speak of the general virtue, you must depend on the virtue of the individual man."

Will Address Legislature.

KEARNEY, Neb., Aug. 26.—Colonel Roosevelt promised tonight to address the members of the Colorado legislature when he visits Denver on Monday.

Election As Delegate Assured.

MINEOLA, L. I., Aug. 26.—Colonel Roosevelt will be chosen as a delegate from Nassau county to the Republican state convention, Republican leaders say here today. It is further proposed that the colonel head the delegation from Nassau.

KEARNEY, Neb., Aug. 26.—When Colonel Roosevelt was informed tonight that Republican leaders in Nassau county, New York, had determined that he shall be a delegate to the Republican state convention at Saratoga, N. Y., he said that he was very glad to hear it and would accept.

"People Want a Rest," Says Barnes.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—"I [illegible] that Mr. Woodruff [illegible] William Barnes's letter to me of August [illegible] chairman of the New York Republican county committee, would say in comment on State Chairman Woodruff's statements of last night in which Mr. Woodruff said that he was ignorant of any plain to present Mr. Roosevelt's name before the recent committee meeting for chairman of the state convention.

Mr. Woodruff did not amplify on his statement today, but William Barnes, Jr., of Albany, was more loquacious. He declared, as he did in a statement a few days ago, that the "people want a rest.

"Business interests are being put in a bad way by this wanton political agitation," he said. "People want to conserve their business interests and do not want them destroyed by political demagogues. The business interests of the state are tired of facing chaos.

"Personally, I am against making the pet theories of demagogues political issues. Roosevelt says he is against crooks. So am I, and so is every honest man. He is hardly helping the party by the course he is taking, but he is getting the personal advertisement that he so much desires."

GERMAN CITIES WELL MANAGED

MEN TRAINED FOR MUNICIPAL SERVICE.

Mayors Are Assigned by Government and Promoted on Their Merits.

XXIII—THE THEORY OF MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

BERLIN, Aug 27.—The Germans, particularly the Prussians have more nearly approached a satisfactory solution of the problem of municipal government under modern conditions than have any other people The solution is a remarkably simple one. It is that municipal government is not a political, but a business enterprise; and that as a business enterprise in which every citizen is a partner it should be run not as a private commercial enterprise but as a huge industrial undertaking to which must be applied the most modern methods of high organization and complete cooperation. To this end it is administered for the purpose of obtaining for each citizen-partner the maximum of profit in matters of safety, health and convenience, mere money profits being a negligible consideration.

Simple as is this theory, it is much easier to put it into practice in Germany than it would be in the United States for the reason that there are fundamentally different habits of thought upon governmental problems in the two countries. The advantage is not altogether on either side. Those Germans who are working for reform in their federal and state government deplore the fact that the German gives greater weight to economic and social questions, almost to the utter neglect of political problems. In the United States the municipal reformers have found their chief obstacle in the fact that the American people think first of politics, and are very often entirely unwilling to give any consideration to social and economic matters. Great Britain, fortunately for its peace and security in its present crisis, occupies a position midway between Germany and America, since it gives politics the place of first importance in national matters, but subordinates political consideration to those of sociology and economics in local government affairs.

Political Problems Unsolved.

Therefore Germany has solved its municipal problem and has failed to settle its national issues because it has applied economic thought to both, success attending the application in a town where economics must necessarily be most important, and failure resulting from the attempt to substitute economics for politics in the national government where politics always must be first. In Great Britain the compromise between the two extremes enables such a man as Mr. Joseph Chamberlain to be a practical socialist in his municipality of Birmingham, where economics alone is concerned, and at the same time be a Tory on national issues affecting the vital principles of politics.

In the United States the concentration of public thought upon political affairs has resulted practically in solving all purely political problems. In America there is no longer any dispute as to the political equality of men, the church and state are separated, the land laws prevent the formation of a self-perpetuating property class, there is no dispute as to the form of government free education is an accepted fact, and the old quarrel between the nationalists and the states rights party is now nothing more than an academic controversy. There is not now before the people of the United States a single live issue purely political in character, with the possible exception of the agitation for a reform of the rules of the national House of Representatives and the demand for popular election of senators.

American Issues Economic.

But even these two political questions grew out of much more important economic problems, which underlie and envelop them. In the present era of agitation in the United States every question before the public is an economic or a social question. This is true in nation, state and city. That it is true is due to the fact that the American people have persisted always in thinking politically rather than economically. Of course great economic questions have arisen from time to time in the career of the American republic, and have been settled but in every important instance the issues were given a political cast and in their determination politics and not economics was considered. The tariff question always has been in politics in America, as it has in England, and in neither has politics been able to solve the problem. In Germany the tariff is not in politics, but has been adjusted on an elastic basis by economic thought.

Americans are beginning to devote economic and social thought to the solution of their governmental problems—national, state and municipal. On abstract political questions the two great parties still are in opposition, but the thought devoted to social and economic problems is now dividing both Republican and Democratic parties into radical and conservative factions

In municipal government in the United States the flood of September 8, 1900, which destroyed the city of Galveston, marked the beginning of the end of the long series of unsuccessful attempts to solve municipal problems by political methods Galveston was destroyed Galveston had to be rebuilt Galveston had to be protected from the waters of the Gulf and to that end Galveston did what the Germans always have done it made the city a business corporation instead of a political corporation. The Galveston plan in its original form and as modified by the Des Moines and other cities, is being adopted in American cities all over the country and in every instance where it has been at all successful political quarrels have been subordinated to economic principles. But it is difficult to change a decade the thought habits of a century. No doubt it was the presence of a large number of German voters, possessing German habits of thought that resulted in the election of the Socialist Mayor Seidel in Milwaukee a few months ago

German Municipal Theory.

The German theory of a municipality as a business concern in which every citizen is an equal partner, is to some extent unsuccessful in practice because of the political backwardness of the general government which denies the principle of equality in political affairs. For the same reason the German theory if attempted in America would to some extent fail in practice because of the fact that American political thought cannot yet tolerate the principle of collective ownership, even in a municipality.

In the German municipality the voters stand in the relation to the government as stockholders in a corporation. Every vote they are asked to give is an expression upon some phase of an economic question. They are asked to decide whether this investment is wise or whether that enterprise should be abandoned; whether this improvement is needed, or whether that expenditure should be postponed. They are not asked at any time to decide between political parties, nor are they asked to express their preference as among personal aspirants for municipal offices.

All of the municipalities are correlated in the general government just as all of the coal mines of Germany are correlated in the German coal syndicate. The coal syndicate sends to each mine a manager with a technical training, who has been proved to be best fitted for the proper development and conservaton of that particular mine. The government furnishes to each municipality a general manager, or a mayor, who is best fitted by experience and training to deal with the problems pressing in that particular city.

Mayors Are Trained.

A German mayor is trained for his profession just as is a railroad man. He takes a course in a government school which devotes itself to the education and technical training of juristic officers. Upon leaving school he is assigned to govern some small village, there to try his skill. If he fails he is dropped from the service. If he succeeds he is in time promoted to a small town. Then, if he shows aptitude and ability, he is promoted gradually from town to city, from small city to large city, and in time he may come to rule over the great capital city of Berlin—the most perfectly governed municipality in the world.

Americans are so thoroughly indoctrinated with the theory of local self-government that they would rise in armed revolt against a government which sought to furnish them mayors in this businesslike fashion Imagine the reception the people of Burlington Vt would give a mayor shipped to them from Tombstone, Arizona' Imagine Charleston, S. C, receiving its future ruler when he stepped from the train which had brought him from Kennebec, Maine'

And yet Burlington would offer no objection to a railway superintendent imported from the west, and Charleston would not object to a cotton mill manager from New England. This is concretely the difference between political and economic habits of thought concerning governmental affairs.

The Germans do not object to a carpet-bagger mayor, because in Germany holding office is not the chief end of municipal government—what the Germans want is results in the form of adequate police protection clean and well-paved streets, sanitary water supply and sewerage, convenient rapid transit and all the other things which it is the business of the municipal government to supply. They want a mayor who can deliver the goods, and they are willing to pay him for his work just as as if he were a first-class factory superintendent They do not ask what he thinks about politics, what church he goes to, what lodge he belongs to, or whether his father "fit" for or against the Union. The Germans want only results, and they get them.

TOMORROW—THE GERMAN ADVANCE.

BURKE ARRIVES IN COLORADO SPRINGS

With the arrival yesterday of W. C. Burke, city engineer of Oklahoma City, announcement was made unofficially that a public meeting will be held at the city hall next week for the purpose of further discussing plans and recommendations regarding the paving of streets in the business section of Colorado Springs.

Mr. Burke, who has been the city engineer of his home town since 1904, is a strong believer in parking and paving in the business district. He will be in Colorado Springs for several days, the guest of Mayor Avery, and will attend the coming public meeting and tell what the combination of parking and paving has done for Oklahoma City. The date of the meeting will be announced within the next day or two.

"Colorado Springs is a resort town," said Mr. Burke last evening, "and its stock in trade is to look pretty.' Much could be accomplished by central parking on Pikes Peak avenue, provided it is wide enough to permit a 30-foot driveway on each side after extending the sidewalks. Instead of hurting business, it would attract people; it would be unique, comparatively cheap and would make boosters for your city. Unsightly wooden poles should be replaced by ornamental iron poles bearing clusters of electric lights. Oklahoma City has more than 100 miles of paving, much of which is asphalt. We have paved entirely on petitions, and this shows better than anything else what the merchants of Oklahoma City think of paved streets.

"In the event that you pave here you will find that property values will increase, rents will be higher and business will be better. The paving will pay for itself. Paving has solved the dust problem in our city. The streets are flushed at night and sweepers keep them clean during the day."

Mr. Burke is on his way home, having spent the last last few weeks on the Pacific coast. It is necessary for him to be in Oklahoma City by September 15, for on that date contracts are to be awarded for additional street paving and parking that will cost $600,000.

TO DECIDE BEST BRIDGE MATERIAL

The county commissioners spent yesterday in the northern part of the state, inspecting bridges in the vicinity of Greeley, Longmont, Boulder and Fort Collins. On the trip they were the guests of C. G. Sheeley, an expert in the letter of bridge construction. The board will decide, following yesterday's tour, the best materials to be used in building a number of new structures in El Paso county.

REAL ESTATE MEN TO MEET SEPT. 13

It was announced yesterday that the first meeting of the Colorado Springs Real Estate exchange for the fall will be held on Tuesday, September 13, in the regular meeting place at the Alta Vista hotel. The exchange has not held a meeting for some months, it being the custom not to convene during the summer. Considerable business of importance, it is said, will be brought up at the coming session.

Nevada Avenue.

U. S. TROOPS WILL PASS THROUGH CITY

Carrying 56,000 pounds of personal baggage and equipment, a special train bearing the Forty-second and One Hundred and Thirty-eighth coast artillery corps of the United States army will arrive in Colorado Springs from Denver at midnight, September 1, over the Colorado and Southern railroad. The special will be turned over to the Colorado Midland at this point, to be rushed through to San Francisco, where the soldiers will be given new quarters. They are being removed from the fort at Delaware City, Del. The troops will remain in this city but a few minutes.

According to the message received in this city by the railway officials, the special will have on board 218 enlisted men, five officers, six women and a number of children. The train will be made up of three steel-tired baggage cars, three 16-section tourist sleepers, three kitchen cars and one 14-section Pullman sleeper.

FRESHMEN EXPECTED IN LARGE NUMBERS

More than 250 freshmen from every part of the state will register for the opening of Colorado College on September 14, according to reports received from solicitors who have been at work inducing the graduates of the various high schools to attend the local academic institution.

Dean E. S. Parsons, who has been spending the summer in Michigan, will return to this city June 3, and will have charge of the registration of students, which will begin a week before the opening of the college term. President W. F. Slocum will return from Europe September 14.

SHORTHAND REPORTERS IN PIKES PEAK REGION

Filling two coaches, many members of the Shorthand Reporters association who have been attending the convention in Denver passed through Colorado Springs yesterday on their way to Cripple Creek. They made the trip from Denver to the mining camp over the Colorado and Southern and Short Line railroads, and spent the night in that place.

This morning the rapid writers will descend to Manitou over the Midland, arriving at 9:30 o'clock, and after spending the day there most of them will return to Denver this evening about 9:30 o'clock. A number however will remain in the Pikes Peak region for several days to see the sights before returning home.

BIG CONTRACT LET FOR WATER MAINS

Upon the recommendation of the Mayor, a contract for laying water mains in the Park Lawn, Cheyenne and Hastings ninth additions was awarded to the Barnes-Stephens Plumbing company on their bid of $11,852.50, at the meeting of the City Council yesterday. This figure is $1,206 below what Water Superintendent McReynolds estimated the work would cost.

The report of the Colorado Springs and Interurban railway company was also submitted to the Council and was referred to the Mayor and city attorney for their consideration. The latter stated that he had already looked over the report, and said that it did not meet the requirements of the city charter, providing that annual statements be submitted to the city by public utility corporations operating under Colorado Springs franchises. Mayor Avery was not at the meeting, and it is probable that the street car company will be asked to furnish a fuller report.

A communication was read from Chief Engineer Hunter of the board of public works, Denver, stating his willingness to act on the advisory board of engineers to meet here soon to discuss the public improvement ordinance.

Dunbar F. Carpenter, president of the civil service commission, recommended that a section of the civil service ordinance regulating the age limit of appointees to the fire department be set aside in the case of A. L. Palmer, who desires to take the examination for assistant engineer. The Council agreed to make an exception in this case.

The Mayor was authorized to issue a quit-claim deed to Helen E. Waterman to property in Palmer park to quiet title. On account of an error in the early survey the property in question was included in a deed from the late General Palmer to the city for park purposes. It was found that the title had not rested in the grantor at that time, and, accordingly, the Palmer deed to the city clouded the title for the rightful owner.

H. C. FURSMAN BUYS R. R. LEESE PROPERTY

An important real estate deal was recorded yesterday through the agency of Wills, Spackman & Kent, when Mrs. Raymond R. Leese sold the residence at 24 East Dale street to Henry C. Fursman, a pioneer of the Pikes Peak region. The home is a modern 8-room frame dwelling, and the consideration is understood to be in the neighborhood of $5,500. Mr. Fursman made the purchase for investment purposes. He is a heavy holder of real estate in Colorado Springs and vicinity.

"PERIOD FURNITURE" AN INTERESTING STUDY

Until recently, the furniture in most American homes was of no particular style, simply furniture more or less expensive—fashioned after the vagaries of the man that wanted to sell, or the ideas of the man that wanted to buy.

When things were at the worst—and considerable of the furniture in the market was certainly atrocious—a manufacturer of refined taste introduced a copy of the Louis XIV style, which was recognized as worth while, and led to the Louis XV, Louis XVI and Empire styles, creating "Period Styles," followed by the styles of our forefathers, the "Colonial," and then by the introduction of examples of the great English masters, Chippendale, Sheraton, Heppelwhite and Adam. Later the "MISSION" (sugested by the furniture discovered in the old Spanish Missions in California), and recently the "Tudor" and "Flanders" styles, each representing a definite historical period, and reviving approved art styles.

We prepare our large stock, to enable us to supply our patrons with the best Furniture of Character at the minimum of cost, and are always glad to have visitors. Prices marked plain.

CIVIC ARCHITECT TO AID IN THE BEAUTIFYING OF THE SPRINGS

A specialist in a recently developed profession that of making cities beautiful is to be employed by Colorado Springs before the details of the public improvement ordinance passed a month ago by the City Council, are eventually carried out.

Decision to secure the services of a "civic architect" was reached at yesterday's Council meeting and a resolution presented by the Civic league of Colorado Springs asking that this step be taken before parking or paving in the business district is begun, was passed unanimously by the commissioners.

For the last few weeks the advisability of engaging a man whose specialty is that of making cities more beautiful has been strongly advocated by The Gazette and the Civic league. Just who the expert will be has not yet been given consideration by city officials. It is the intention, however, to secure his services at the earliest possible date so that he may come here and go over the ground and the proposed paving, parking and other improvements before the actual work is undertaken.

The resolution passed is as follows:

The Resolution.

WHEREAS, This city is entering upon an era of extensive civic improvements which will extend over a period of years before finally completed and

WHEREAS, It is the sense of this Council that there should be a definite plan and system adopted under which all improvements are made and that such plan should combine the largest and best possible service obtainable with that which will add most to the attractiveness and beauty of the city as a whole, and

WHEREAS, This Council by resolution has authorized the employment of two skilled engineers to assist the city engineer in planning practical street improvements, therefore

BE IT RESOLVED, By the City Council of Colorado Springs

That the commissioner of public works and property be and he is hereby authorized to employ a competent, skilled civic architect to draw up a complete and comprehensive plan, which shall provide not only for the present but for the future development and beautifying of the city, and that he report such plan together with his recommendation to this council.

That said commissioner employ such civic architect in lieu of one of the consulting engineers which he was heretofore authorized to employ, if in the judgment of such commissioner it is wise to do so, and if not, to employ said two consulting engineers and in addition thereto a civic architect as above provided.

OFFICER STOPS A RIFLE DUEL ON COLO. AVE.

The alertness of Officer F. L. Whitney prevented a possible serious shooting scrape on Colorado avenue, Colorado City, last night, when J. Whitney, colored and a man who gave his name Frank as Frank, attempted to fight a duel with rifles.

It is alleged that the two men were trying their skill in a local shooting gallery, when they became involved in a quarrel. Whitney, it is said, seized one of the rifles and ran out into the street towards an eastbound car. Grasping another rifle, Frank gave chase.

Seeing the man in pursuit, it is said that Whitney turned and tried to shoot him, when he was arrested by Whitney.

COUNCIL HOLDS A SECRET MEETING

A number of important changes in the police regulations were discussed at a secret meeting of the Colorado city council last night in the town hall. The meeting was held in order that the council might be ready to act at the public meeting next Tuesday night.

HIGH SCHOOL OPENS FOR YEAR SEPT. 6

With an efficient corps of instructors and with buildings that have been thoroughly renovated, the schools of Colorado City will open for the fall term on September 6, according to announcement made yesterday.

The High school building has undergone a number of repairs in the summer and is now as complete as any High school of its size in the country. A course, similar to those given in business colleges, has been added to the curriculum, and according to local authorities will fill a long required want.

At the Midland school the old foundation has been removed and many tons of cement have been forced into the earth to form a solid base on which a new foundation has been constructed. The roof has been repaired and the building put into excellent condition.

Prof. E. C. Best, a graduate of the University of Colorado, has been added to the corps of instructors in the High school. Other new teachers who have been elected by the board of education, either to fill vacancies caused by resignations or as additions, are Miss Josephine Cowgill, Miss E. P. Cullen, Miss Ruby Coffin and Miss Jennie Hadley.

PYTHIANS OF CITY TO GO TO BOULDER

With the intent of winning laurels for Colorado Springs, Garden of the Gods company No. 2, Knights of Pythias, will leave for Boulder tomorrow morning in command of Captain Alex Reibscheid. The company is one of the best drilled in the state.

CANNOT EXTEND THE CITY POSTAL DEL'Y

That the proposed added territory is not sufficiently large to warrant the extension of the city postal delivery here is the word that Postmaster Morgan has received from the postoffice authorities at Washington. According to the letter received by Mr. Morgan, the appropriation for the extension of city deliveries has been cut down for the present fiscal year and no extensions will be made except where the case is urgent.

WILL ATTEND W. C. T. U. MEETING NEXT MONTH

Mrs. E. K. Lee, district president, will attend the ninth convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union in Colorado Springs, September 14 and 15 as the official representative of Colorado City. Mrs. Lee is a leader in the movement to secure the passage of a prohibitory liquor amendment to the Colorado constitution in 1912.

The annual business meeting of the local W. C. T. U. society will be held in the hall next Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Officers and trustees will be elected and other important business will be transacted.

Mock Marriage a Feature of Entertainment

Miss Georgia Hicks entertained Thursday night at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. T. Michael, 803 Jackson avenue in honor of Mrs. Otto Jamison, who until last week was Miss May Kinsman, daughter of H. C. Kinsman, of the firm of Kinsman and Wolf.

The evening was spent in games, one of which was a mock wedding in which Miss Ruth Connor, Miss Hicks and Miss Nell Harlan took part. Among those present were Mrs. Otto Jamison, Mrs. J. T. Michael, Misses Ruth Connor, Ferne Tackley, Nell Harlan, Martha Kinsman, Katherine Kimsey, Fannie Boyd, May Jamison, Helen Bond, Clara Michael, Nellie Martin, Hazel Shafer, Lela Smith, Lizzie Ammerman, Zelda Michael and Georgia Hicks.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

Alleging that he had been unmercifully beaten, C. W. Harris swore to a complaint in Justice Irvin's court yesterday, charging Dan Williams with assault and battery.

According to Harris, he was quietly enjoying a glass of beer in a local saloon when Williams approached him, and after a short altercation, proceeded to give him a good thrashing. Williams, who was arrested late yesterday afternoon, admits the altercation, but denies striking Harris. The case is set for this morning at 10 o'clock in Justice Irwin's court.

A special election to determine whether refunding bonds, amounting to $45,000, shall be issued to take the place of the present outstanding bond issue, has been called for September 29 by the board of education. CITY WATER SYSTEM IS IN GOOD CONDITION

After a day and a half in the mountains going over the city's water system Mayor Avery, City Engineer Wagener, Assistant Engineer Austin and Water Superintendent McReynolds returned here last night. The officials report the system in good condition and the reservoirs well filled. Next week it is planned to send a surveying crew over the system to report the amount of work necessary in the proposed enlargement and improvement of the reservoirs.

HOLD CORN FEAST

A corn feast was given in North Cheyenne canon last night by members of the Universalist church at which 80 were present. The event was largely in compliment to the Rev. William Couden who preaches his farewell sermon tomorrow before leaving for California. A reception will be given to Mr. Couden upon his return from the coast.

BENJAMIN DANIELS VISITING IN CITY

R. P. Ady, a local attorney, is entertaining an old friend of his father in the person of Benjamin Daniels, onetime marshal of Dodge City, Kan. and who in the early days had a reputation even greater than that of Bat Masterson when it came to making the traditional bad man walk the straight and narrow path. Mr. Daniels is on his way to Denver, where he will be in the van when it comes to greeting Theodore Roosevelt of whom he is a personal friend and under whom he served as a Rough Rider. He will then return to Colorado Springs for a day or two, after which he will go to Arizona to look after mining near Tucson.

Daniels is the man whose appointment as United States marshal for Oklahoma was held up by the Senate, despite Roosevelt's recommendation.

LOOKS BAD FOR DENVER

According to word received by local members, the Loyal Order of Moose, now holding its annual national convention at Baltimore, Md., will probably not select Denver as the 1911 convention city, it being expected that the three sister cities of Illinois—Davenport, Moline and Rock Island—will win out. Harry T. Pinnock, dictator, and Frank F. Wulff, past dictator of the local order, are at the convention lending their support to Denver's campaign for the next meeting.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS ARE BEING PLANNED

The business men of Manitou are planning many improvements for the coming year. This year has broken all records in the number of visitors, and at times it has proven almost impossible to handle the crowds.

Austin and Snyder expect to open the Grand Caverns and to build an automobile roadway to the cave. The Mansions will install a complete system of hot and cold water in every room, and will refurnish the entire building. A swimming pool will be built on the west, together with an Italian garden. The Cliff house will spend about $40,000 in improvements.

The Crystal Park company is already leveling ground for its new golf links and expects to spare no expense in making them the best in the west. The road will soon be finished, and a number of cottages will be erected shortly afterward.

J. A. HARRIS FINED

J. A. Harris, the Armenian who was arrested August 16 on a charge of assaulting A. Tarkio, a Japanese, was found guilty and was fined $5 and costs, amounting to $25, in Justice McParland's court yesterday afternoon. The case against F. Harris, his brother, charged with the use of profane language, was dismissed.

BELLBOY BOUND OVER

J. Rosenthal, the 17-year-old bellboy at the Grand View hotel who was arrested Thursday night in Colorado City on a charge of stealing a diamond brooch from Mrs. E. A. Fisher, a guest of the hotel, was bound over to the county court yesterday by Police Judge Sawin. In default of $400 bond, Rosenthal was committed to the county jail.

Mrs. Ava Willing Astor, who has just arrived at Newport for the first time since she and her husband, John Jacob Astor, separated. She brought 30 trunks with her and was in the cheeriest of moods. She will spend the rest of the summer with her brother, Barton Willing. Newport society expects her to entertain in a more than usually lavish manner to offset the idea that the marital troubles of herself and husband are irreparable tragedies.

What the Press Agents Say

"FORTY-FIVE MILES FROM NOWHERE"

Forty-five Miles From Nowhere a comedy-drama of life on a ranch in Texas, was produced for the first time in this city at the Opera House last evening, and will be repeated for the last times this afternoon and evening. "Forty-five Miles From Nowhere" is by Theodore Lorch, star and manager of the Lorch Stock company, and also author of "The Servant of the Law" which he presented at the Opera House last week.

The story of "Forty-five Miles From Nowhere" deals with cowboys and ranchers. It is a simple tale of love and hate among the people of the plains. [illegible] of the play is that there are struggles and happiness in the most isolated places on earth as well as in the crowded cities. Theodore Lorch has the role of a cow-puncher in this drama. Those who saw his Squaw Man and his Cowboy in "The Lieutenant and the Cowboy" know what Mr. Lorch can do with such characters.

High class vaudeville specialties are introduced into this play for the first time during the present engagement of the Lorch Stock company in this city. Various members of the company take part in these acts. The combination of a highly entertaining play with the best vaudeville acts, makes the present offering at the Opera House two shows in one for one price.

Owing to the fact that the manuscript of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will not reach this city until next week, the production of this famous old play has been postponed until the following week. In its place, "East Lynne" will be revived for two performances, Thursday matinee and night. With "Graustark" for three nights and two matinees the first part of the week and "St Elmo" for two nights and one matinee closing the week next week should be a banner week at the Opera House.

AMUSEMENT LOVERS KNOW WHERE TO FIND IT

That the people in this city who love amusement whether they be permanent or transient residents is evidenced by the attendance at the Majestic this week where larger houses than might well be expected in summer weather have been the rule. This week's bill, which closes this evening certainly furnishes enough amusement to leave a pleasant taste in the mouth for a long time. Sam J Curtis, as Ham Slivers in "A Session at School" is a whole evening's entertainment in himself and if there is any body who is not chronically good-natured for at least a week after seeing him that person should consult a specialist. Curtis is assisted by a capable company.

The Hollsworths are also classy entertainers their act being neat and nifty all the way through so also are the Dunbars who mix a good line of comedy with their singing. And the Majesticscope has a very comical comic as well as another interesting set of films. Phasma the Goddess of Light has a dance so spectacular in the lighting effects as to baffle description. It is wonderful. The fine five number program of the famous Majestic concert orchestra completes the fine show which closes this evening.

Performances at 3 00 7 30 and 9 10 p. m. Admission 10 20 and 30 cents.

MADAM NATURE'S ART GALLERY

A good many years ago before you or I or any of us began to think of Colorado as the playground and show-place of America, the tribes of Ute Indians who wandered where the village of Manitou now stands were attracted to an orifice in the cliffs near the foot of Pikes Peak from which at intervals there issued strange sounds. Being at a loss to account for it the Utes enshrouded it in mystery and wove their weird legends concerning it. Later the white men came and unburdened with aboriginal superstitions, they discovered another entrance, entered, investigated and found that the song of the cave was caused by the wind which whistled through its peculiar formations. It was then that the "Cave of the Winds" began to attract international attention. Soon geologists and men of science, who visited it and explored its recesses with torches discovered that, in variety and beauty of formations the cave was unique in the history of geology. Its entire 16 rooms were an ever-changing panorama of Nature's sculpture in varied materials.

As the years have passed the cave has grown in reputation until tens of thousands visit it yearly. Without in any way marring its natural wonders it has been rendered as easily accessible as a house and brilliant electric searchlights reach every nook and crevice, bringing into strong relief each glittering crystal formation. The cave is easily reached by carriages up beautiful Williams Canon and it is open to visitors both day and night.

A MOST DELIGHTFUL PROGRAM AT THE LYRIC

Back to Nature.—It has happened before but not exactly in this way. A chauffeur falls in love with his employer's daughter and she ignores him by her haughtiness and indifference. She is bored by his attentions. Later the employer a man of affairs is appointed consul general to Australia.

The chauffeur goes along with the family and they are now on board a steamer on their way to Australia. A storm arises and the vessel is wrecked. Everybody seems helpless to save themselves but the chauffeur who with his brains and brawn, succeeds in getting the consul general and his family safely to shore. They are [illegible] and again the chauffeur's quick wit comes into play. He makes them comfortable cheers them up in every way and starts in to build a hut and secure provisions showing the superiority of mental and muscular attainments when it comes to an emergency [illegible] proves himself master of the [illegible] winning the respect and admiration of all.

The consul's daughter [illegible] realizing that in the chauffeur there [illegible] [illegible] fashion a ship is seen on the horizon. At once the chauffeur raises signals and attracts attention to the island and the wrecked party.

The captain of the vessel steers near the shore and sends boats which take the wrecked consul general and his party to the ship and they are all put aboard bound for Australia. En route to their destination the chauffeur again proposes to the consul's daughter and this time she accepts him. The young couple tell the father who is somewhat surprised and opposed to the match but he consents feeling that in the chauffeur his daughter will have a protector as well as a husband who will always show himself equal to the occasion no matter what may be the circumstances.

PLENTY OF PROOF

From People You Know—From Colorado Springs Citizens

The greatest skeptic can hardly fail to be convinced in the face of evidence like this. It is impossible to produce better proof of merit than the testimony of residents of Colorado Springs of people who can be seen at any time. Read the following case of it.

William Foukes, 116 Pueblo Ave., Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "I shall always speak highly of Doan's Kidney Pills as they proved most satisfactory in my case. The public statement I gave in 1906 in regard to my experience with this remedy still holds good. Off and on for five years I suffered from disordered kidneys. I had distressing headaches, was nervous and was obliged to arise frequently at night to void the kidney secretions. If the secretions were allowed to stand a sediment was deposited and the passages were also painful. My back ached [illegible] months and my condition was much worse when I took cold or [illegible] myself. Occasionally my right kidney swelled and a lump appeared over it being as large as my fist. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me from the first and the contents of two boxes made me feel like a different person. I have never had a serious return of the trouble and my health has been excellent."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

LAST SERMON TOMORROW

The Rev William Coudon pastor of Christ Universalist church will deliver his last sermon in this city tomorrow morning. On Tuesday he will leave for a month's tour in California before taking up his new pastorate in Norwalk, O.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Health Talks

No man is stronger than his stomach. Make your stomach strong and you thereby fortify your system against the attacks of a long list of diseases which originate in the stomach and must be reached, if at all through the stomach. Thus torpid, or lazy liver, biliousness, dyspepsia, impure blood and various skin affections originate in weak stomach and consequent poor nutrition. The same is true of certain bronchial, throat and lung affections.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

Strengthens the stomach, invigorates the liver, purifies the blood making it rich, red and vitalizing and thereby curing the above and kindred affections.

It's foolish and often dangerous to experiment with new or but slightly tested medicines—sometimes urged upon the afflicted as "just as good" or better than "Golden Medical Discovery." The dishonest dealer sometimes insist that he knows what the proffered substitute is made of, but you don't and it is decidedly for your interest that you should know what you are taking into your stomach and system expecting it to act as a curative. To him its only a difference of profit. Therefore, insist on having Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If not promptly supplied trade elsewhere.

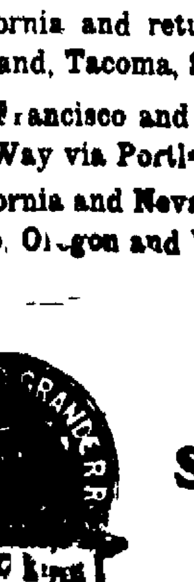

[illegible] Dr. Pierce's [illegible] the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, thoroughly equipped and with a Staff of Skilled Specialists to treat the more difficult cases of Chronic disease [illegible] requiring Medical or Surgical skill for their cure. PLOTTING AGAINST CONSERVATION

EVIDENCE accumulates that an attempt will be made to pack the National Conservation Congress which opens in St. Paul, September 5, for the purpose of discrediting the national policy of conservation initiated by Theodore Roosevelt and put into effect by Gifford Pinchot and James R. Garfield.

At a recent conference at Salt Lake, attended by the governors of nine western states, resolutions were adopted for presentation at the St. Paul convention which are significant. They are as follows:

"That national and state government should cooperate and within a reasonable time the state governments be conceded complete administration of conservation laws.

That existing national conservation laws have tended to intrench monopolies.

"That the early elimination from the national forest reserves of all homestead and untimbered grazing lands is expedient.

Thus the question of states' rights is brought into the conservation problem on the flimsy pretext, the hypocritical contention, that the Federal system of conservation aids just what it is designed to prevent—monopolistic usurpation of the public domain.

The vital issue in conservation is whether the natural resources of the country shall be conserved. How they are conserved is a minor consideration. There would be no objection from any quarter—least of all from the Federal Government—to the exercise of sovereign authority by the several states over the resources lying within their respective boundaries were it certain that such power would be exercised capably and conscientiously in the interest of the people, not alone of this generation but of those to come.

But the states have shown conclusively that they can not or will not execute this trust. The Federal Government has shown conclusively that it can and will. And any attempt to take the administration of the public domain out of the hands of the Federal Government on the theory that it has encroached upon the constitutional rights of the states is palpably dictated by the enemies of conservation in any form, who believe, and with ample reason, that under state control they will be able to complete their now effectively halted work of spoliation.

If detailed evidence were needed to prove the validity of this charge it could easily be cited. But it is enough to point out that the Roosevelt-Pinchot plan of conservation has put a crimp in the greedy aspirations of sundry powerful railroad and other corporations and that the sudden renewal of the agitation for state conservation may be easily traced to special interests or sources near to them.

In this problem popular rights overshadow state rights, particularly when the doctrine of state sovereignty is being made to serve as a cloak behind which nefarious designs against public property are being plotted.

THE UNDERLYING PRINCIPLE.

THOSE who profess to find in the insurgent movement within the Republican party nothing more than an evanescent outburst of fanaticism seem to take a great deal of comfort in the fact that the particular things for which Republican insurgents in various parts of the country are fighting, seem to differ materially.

The specific aims of the insurgent movement in this particular campaign do show noteworthy variety. In Iowa the chief revolt is against the tariff, in Nebraska it is against Cannonism, in California it is against the domination of the state by the Southern Pacific railroad, in New Hampshire it is against the influence of the Boston and Maine railroad, in Kansas it is against Aldrichism, Cannonism, everything that savors of reactionism; in Colorado it is against corrupt corporation control of the party.

But when one stops even for a moment to analyze the problem thus presented it becomes simplicity itself. The insurgents everywhere are fighting for the political freedom of the rank and file of Republican voters and for the political and economic freedom of the people of the country through the Republican party.

In one state that may take the form of a demand that the tariff be revised in the interest of the domestic consumer. In another that the system of parliamentary tyranny built up in the House by Cannon shall be abolished. In another that a railroad trust shall not control the party to its own unlawful enrichment. In another that the people shall have a direct voice in the nomination of candidates and the initiation of laws to the end that the power of corrupt alliances of self seeking corporations and self seeking politicians may be overthrown.

Yet, fundamentally, all these demands aim at the same evil and result in the control of government by the few in the interest of the few instead of by the many in the interest of the many. The principle that underlies Republican insurgency is the same everywhere. It is the restoration to the people the power which is rightfully theirs and which they have allowed to slip irrevocably out of their hands when a handful of courageous men charged the ramparts of Cannonism and Aldrichism and Ballingerism and began the battle whose echoes are now ringing in every nook and corner of the nation.

The fight of the insurgents in Congress, first directed specifically against a system of legislative gag rule which gave a certain clique complete control over the proceedings of the House of Representatives, is now become the fight of the whole people, directed specifically against any and every condition that menaces its welfare.

THIRD

WOMEN IN TUBERCULAR WAR.

IN almost every sphere of activity aiming at the betterment of social, economic, political and religious conditions in this country woman is playing a magnificent part, but in no other way perhaps is she performing a larger public service than in her participation in the war on tuberculosis.

Only four years ago, according to a recent bulletin of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, the only active women workers in this movement were embraced within the membership of some thirty women's clubs. Today no less than 800,000 women, scattered throughout every state and territory, are enlisted in the antituberculosis campaign under the Health Department of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and more than 2,000 clubs are taking a special interest in the crusade. Thousands more have been reached by the educational lecture campaign during the last year by the Public Health Education Committee of the American Medical Association, composed largely of women physicians, while the Young Women's Christian Association, the Mothers' Congress and many independent organizations of women are active in the same direction. Probably it is not an exaggeration to say that more than one million women are united in the titanic struggle with the great white plague.

And millions of others, through their efforts, have been acquainted with the dangers of tuberculosis and methods of preventing and combating the dread malady. In this war no lines are drawn, the campaign is being waged alike in the palatial homes of the rich and the humble cottages of the poor.

THE GIFT-BEARING GREEKS.

From the Kansas City Times.

The announcement of the national Republican congressional committee that it intends to help the progressive candidates for Congress in the coming campaign recalls to mind the very effective left-handed aid the committee gave the progressive candidates before the primaries. For its contribution, from what Senator Dolliver called its "rotten money," to send speakers into Kansas and to flood that state and other western states with literature attacking Bristow and Murdock and Cummins and Dolliver, the progressive candidates, and the voters are under obligations to the congressional committee.

But now, what aid can it give to the men who were nominated because they opposed the things the national committee declared to be straight Republican policies? The people know the class of spellbinders it has secured to campaign for the standpat candidates. Not one of them is in sympathy with any issue the progressives are advocating. Does the committee expect to send Nelson W. Aldrich and Senator Guggenheim, for instance, into the Eighth Kansas district to help Victor Murdock?

Can anybody imagine the congressional committee sending speakers into Missouri to help the standpat Republicans in this state and then hurrying them across the line to help in Kansas?

Suspicious persons might be inclined to think that "help" from the national congressional committee might attr uting to defeat, by an assumption of friendliness, the men it could not defeat by open opposition.

RAILROADS AND STATESMEN.

From Collier's Weekly.

Ballinger, it must be conceded, is not the first man who, as commissioner of the land office, or secretary of the interior, has been under control of railroads and other corporations. Senator Thomas H. Carter of Montana, who was at one time commissioner of the general land office, served the Northern Pacific railroad so faithfully in its land steals that that company returned the favor by electing him to the United States Senate. Ballinger, now wishes to be senator from the State of Washington. Recently some correspondence of Binger Hermann of Oregon, formerly of the land office, came to light. George W. Brownell, a leader in the Oregon legislature, was helping Mr. Hermann in his senatorial aspirations. Hermann, at the time commissioner, under date of July 3, 1900, wrote to Brownell:

"You refer to H. (which means Huntington, the Southern Pacific agent who influenced cabinets and Congress) and after your desire to be selected as his counsel here in Washington city as one to look after his vast concerns so far as they reach the courts and the departments here. That is a laudable ambition and financially means much. He often reaches Washington city and comes around to my office here. . . . I should exert my best efforts for you in this direction, and, in view of my long and very favorable acquaintance, I think I should have success."

On July 26 of the same year Hermann again wrote Brownell:

Mr. H. was here to see me from New York, as I stated to you that he would be, and he spent over half an hour in conversation upon the situation in Oregon, and personally as to his vast enterprises, and after I return from my visit to Oregon I shall have a further consultation with him in New York. Busy as he is, he always makes it a point to call upon me here in person."

This is the language of a commissioner of the general land office who was supposed to protect the public against this wholesale land grabber. This also is the same Huntington whose correspondence and private accounts show corrupt and wholesale dealings with United States senators—who spoke of a certain senator as "his man, while that same senator was only pretending to fight him—the same Huntington who wrote to his 'fixer' in San Francisco and complained of newspaper dispatches interfering with his business in Washington, and asked if it wasn't possible to control the agent of the Associated Press in San Francisco.

The Daily Chit-Chat

The world is so full of a number of things
I am sure we should all be as happy as kings.

But one of the chief reasons that we aren't, I think is that we just don't realize that we own these things just don't bestir ourselves to take possession of our kingdoms.

For instance:

I don't know just where you live but I do know that it is unlikely that you have at any place so far found that there is not some beautiful country or seaside spot not more than half an hour and ten cents away from your home. More likely much nearer.

And how often do you get there and see the few days bathing, rowing with the fresh air and your soul with the peace that abides to be found in such spots?

You wish you might take your children into the country for the summer as your neighbor does, and often bewail that that luxury is not within your power to bring to your darlings, but how often do you give them that luxury that is within your reach—a day in the country?

And by a day in the country I don't mean a day at some popular picnic ground, where there are flying horses and peanut stands, and all that sort of thing.

I mean a day in the real country. Doubtless the youngsters will enjoy the other kind of excursion quite as much and they ought to have that, too occasionally, but don't let it crowd out the real country day.

Besides the immediate advantage to their health you will also be giving your children a lifelong source of pleasure if you instill into them a love for the outdoor world.

Teach them, or perhaps I should say learn with them to listen for and try to distinguish some of the bird calls and to take an interest in the different varieties of flowers. I don't mean necessarily the minute botannical interest that is not content until it pulls the flower apart into corolla and calyx and classifies it into family and genus. I simply mean the friendly interest that knows them by all their nicknames and studies to learn just when to expect them and where they like best to grow.

Of course, you can't cultivate an interest like that by going once or twice a year into the woods.

But what's to prevent your going once or twice a week?

Household cares? If I had a house and five children to look after I wouldn't talk such nonsense.

I wonder.

I wonder if a house couldn't stay by itself quite comfortably occasionally, and if there isn't more than one way to look after five children.

Once upon a time there was a woman who was too much "cumbered about much serving" to listen to the wonderful words of her very great guest.

And there was another woman who cared more to listen to this inspired guest than she did that everything in the house be immaculate and the food perfectly cooked and served just so.

And we were told that this woman chose "that good part which shall not be taken away from her."

Are you sure that in preferring to have your table and house and children's wardrobe just so to being a fellow student with your children for an occasional day in God's great school room, you are choosing "that good part?"

RUTH CAMERON.

UNCLE WALT

A HOT DAY PARODY.

Backward, turn backward, O time, in thy flight! Give us some snow again, just for tonight! Give us a blast from the boreal shore, shaking the windows and rattling the door! I am so weary of weather that fries, I am so weary of swatting the flies, weary of swearing in truculent tones, weary of blowing my ill-gotten bones down at the drug store, for fizz-stuff in cans, weary of sitting by rickety fans. Auntie, come back from the shadowy shore, dope me for chilblains again, as of yore; talk about gumdrops and other things nice; put me on ice, auntie, put me on ice! Backward turn backward, O tide of the years! Give us some frost-bitten fingers and ears! Give us a blizzard, with all kinds of sleet, give us a stem-winding storm and repeat! Auntie, who loved me in time long ago, bring to your dear little Willie some snow! I have been baking until I'm well done; I have been sizzling away in the sun, I have been cooked in the old German style; I have been fricasseed, mile after mile, I am all scrambled and ready to serve, I am reduced to a bundle of nerve. Come, then, and save me one move will suffice; put me on ice, auntie, put me on ice!

LIFE LINES

A BIT OF PHILOSOPHY IN PROSE AND VERSE

Bury your dead griefs with yesterday's troubles, too many men stalk the streets with the corpse as their care to curry favor.

That man becomes a leader of men who loves to serve them; service is the surest signboard to success.

The man who shows a bad temper never attempts much good, the piety of the man who is cross won't carry the cross cheerfully.

You can neevr enjoy your own joys when you fail to impart some good to another heart.

That man is wise who knows his capacities; but he who underrates what he undertakes makes his gravest mistakes.

Man may look grave and forget that he lives, but he can smile and work all the while and have no fear of death and the grave.

Sympathy is a secret way of freezing sin, it melts the heart and drives out the dross, leaving only the divine.

The power of love pardons all wrong, man's salvation comes through peace and not through freedom from perdition.

Man's life is good when he has done the best he could, that man is never defeated who lives to serve and [illegible] after he has cast the die.

He took occasion there and then to say that during the time he had mingled with the 400 in this country he had had an excellent opportunity to observe and faithfully criticise what manner of people we are. He pleased the naval men by saying that after several trips to the Brooklyn Navy yard he had become convinced that the so called manners of the 400 were not by any means as genteel and ladylike as the politeness and courtesy he had met with from highest to lowest on the war vessels of the United States.

ODDER OF OWLS HAS BEEN REINSTATED

That the local nest No 1087, Order of Owls, will be reinstated in good standing, is the announcement made by National Organizer G. D. Beroth, who left this city yesterday. The charter of the local chapter was suspended last fall because of lack of interest on the part of some of the members, but with the action of the national organizer, the nest is again in good standing. The Colorado Springs chapter, including that of the women's auxiliary, the White Cross society, has 100 members.

EXPERTS WILL SUBMIT PLANS

DECORATION COMMITTEE MEMBERS TO DECIDE.

Man Giving Best Suggestion to Dress City for State G. O. P. Convention.

Three members of the committee in charge of decorations for the coming state Republican convention met last night at the Antlers hotel and heard suggestions from three expert decorators, regarding the best plans for dressing Colorado Springs in holiday attire for the event. Owing to the fact that five of the members of the committee were out of town, the three last night were unable to take definite action. For that reason they empowered the experts to prepare plans and submit them to a meeting of the entire committee, to be held next Wednesday or Thursday, when the best plans will be accepted, and the expert submitting them will be selected to take charge of the work.

One of the experts at the meeting last night is the man who has charge of the placing of decorations in Denver for the coming of former President Roosevelt. He also has been selected by a number of the candidates for office to decorate their quarters at various places in the city, and to dress up the Antlers hotel, where the state headquarters will be established. His suggestions were listened to with much interest. A local firm was also represented, as was a firm of decorators from Denver.

While nothing definite is decided, the plans now under consideration call for the decorating of from four to six blocks of the main downtown streets with lights and flags. It was suggested that Tejon street be decorated from North park to South park, and possibly Pikes Peak avenue from Cascade to Nevada avenues.

In Temple theater, where the convention will be held, it is probable that pictures of President Taft and other Republican leaders will be placed over the platform, with pictures of past Republican Presidents around the hall. Over these, new American flags will be draped, and the platform will be further beautified by ferns and potted flowers.

The members of the committee present at last night's meeting were: O. Livermore, C. E. Stratton and E. G. Davis.

REPUBLICANS MEET THIS AFTERNOON

Pursuant to a call of the secretary, the El Paso county Republican central committee will meet this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the court house to fill a number of vacancies and to fix the time and place for the caucuses, primaries and county convention. Three or four vacancies exist on the committee. One of these is due to the resignation of E. C. F. Whitaker, while it is understood that several more resignations will be handed in.

The central committee is composed of Ralph Bradfield, secretary; E. W. Giddings, Irving Howbert, J. F. Boynton, Harry Hutchinson, J. B. Stephen, D. B. Law, E. C. Sharer, R. L. Chambers, E. C. F. Whitaker, H. T. Macauley, F. L. Ballard, F. J. Loper, E. M. Roberts, M. E. Stubbs, H. H. Grafton, A. W. Parkman, L. A. Puffer, H. T. Pinnock, F. F. Schreiber, Ralph Wooden, A. M. Hill, W. H. SUN SHINES ALL DAY

Notwithstanding the fact that there were local traces of frost before sunrise, yesterday proved to be the only day thus far in August during which the sunshine registered 100 per cent of possible. It made the eighteenth day since January 1 that there has been sunshine all day.

The records at the Colorado College observatory show the following full sunshine days since the beginning of the year: January, two; February, four; March, three; April, three; May, one; June, four and July none.

The sunshine yesterday brought up temperature perceptibly, and in some quarters there was even talk of the heat. The maximum temperature was 76 degrees, which was recorded in the afternoon. The frost yesterday morning was not general.

The forecast for today is warmer weather.

Cowpunchers Ride Everything From Buffaloes to Burros

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug 26.—Every available animal, from buffaloes to burros, was ridden at the Frontier day celebration today

The judges had difficulty eliminating candidates from the final riding championship contest, which takes place tomorrow. Hugh Clarke, on Archbishop, made the ride of the day, when he sat as if glued to the saddle while his mount attempted every trick known to outlaws Charlie McKinne, on Dead Eye Dick, also made a sensational ride He stuck to his mount through two fences and an assortment of "weaving" and "sunfishing" unexcelled by any horse this week

Jim O'Donnell of Platteville, Colo., was the favorite of the crowd. He rode Whirlwind with a grace and ease which onlookers considered unexcelled by older riders, and made sure of a place in the finals Champion Clayton Danks drew Rock River, a horse which did not make the champion show the riding of which he is capable

Two accidents marred the day. Charles Irwin, master of ceremonies, was knocked down and kicked by Silver City, and his collar bone was broken His daughter's mount, in the women's race, bolted into the fence, throwing the girl heavily. She escaped serious injury.

Of the contenders for the championship, only two were thrown, as against four yesterday, an almost unprecedented number Roy Gale lasted just two jumps of his mount, and then went over the animal's head. N. D. Jones was piled by Silver City before he was really in the saddle. Jones was given another chance, and in his second attempt to mount the horse the Irwin accident occurred.

In the branding contest Sam Scoville and team cut out two calves from a herd, roped, branded and earmarked them in one minute, three and one-fifth seconds, winning the event

ZOOZ WILL MEET THE SOLDIER TEAM TODAY

The kind of ball they play in the army will be on tap at Zoo park for two days, beginning this afternoon at 3:30 when the Fort Logan team comes here to take a fall out of the Zooz.

If their train is on time the soldier team will reach here at noon today and go through a short workout at the ballyard preparatory to the game this afternoon. From past performances the Fort Logan nine should give the Zooz a good argument, for during the season they have met and defeated some of the best semi-professional organizations in the west, among them the Kansas City Grays.

The Zooz will present a changed lineup this afternoon with Harry Sweet back of the plate and Fowler in his old position at first. Merz will probably pitch and Hasting play in right field so that his batting will be available. Sweet formerly played with Cripple Creek and Grand Junction and this season he has been catching for Dallas He has been drafted by the New Orleans club in the Southern league and is on his way there now.

Tomorrow there will be a double-header, the first game between Fountain and the Twentieth Century teams and the second between Fort Logan and the Zooz.

JOAN WINS BONNER STAKES AT EMPIRE

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—After four days of interesting light harness racing, the Grand Circuit meet ended today at the Empire City track. Three events were on the final card with the Bonner memorial stakes for $3,500 for 2:25 class trotters as the feature. This was won in two straight heats by the bay mare Joan, owned by David Shaw of Cleveland.

Joan was driven in good style by McDavitt, and won both heats with Dudie Archdale, driven by the veteran, E. F. Geers, second each time. Summaries

Bonner memorial stakes, $2,500, 2.25 class trotting; 2 in 3—Joan won in straight heats. Time, 2.10¼, 2:09¼. Dudie Archdale, second; Captain George and Arlo Leyburn, third.

Matron futurity stakes, $15,000; 3-year-old class pacing, 2 in 3—Left-which won in straight heats. Time, 2 12, 2 12 Nell Gentry, second; Tommy T, third

Union stakes, $2,500; 2:20 class pacing, 2 in 3. The Abbe won in straight heats. Time, 2.12, 2:07 Branham Baughman, second. (Two starters).

BUTTE, Aug. 26.—Lena Lech took the feature race at the Butte Jockey club's track today from a fair field. The mare was 3 to 1, while Fern L, the favorite, at 3 to 2, was second.

SARATOGA, Aug. 26—Mary Davis, backed from 8 to 5 to even money, easily won the Amsterdam selling stakes today

Champion Wrestler Held as Swindler

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug 26.—Under the name of John Fletcher, John Carkeek, former champion wrestler of the world, was arrested here today and turned over to the federal officers on the charge of being a member of the Maybray gang of race track and pugilistic swindlers.

Carkeek, according to the police, was the wrestler of the gang, and is accused of having taken part in many fake wrestling bouts which resulted in a gain of thousands of dollars by the swindlers.

Chicago Soon to Play Ball in Nighttime

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—C. A Comiskey's recently installed lights received their first real tryout at the American league grounds last night when the Illinois Athletic club and Calumet lacrosse teams battled for over two hours in a fast match in the glare of over 1,000,000 candle power of illumination which constitutes a portion of the light plant that will give Chicago night baseball in the near future. The plant proved itself equal to the occasion. The test held up to what was expected.

The Illinois A. C. won the game, 11 to 10, but this fact was lost to view in the confusion resulting from the pronounced success of the light plant—and at that, the ground lights were curtailed and only one-half the power was in use At no time during the 80 minutes of play did the players find it hard to follow the ball, but the game proved as fast and as interesting as if it had been played in broad daylight No complaint was heard from the players and, with the roof lights uncovered, the contestants were in no way bothered by the power of the lamps

Princeton and Harvard to Meet Again on the Gridiron

BOSTON, Aug 26—Dartmouth is to be dropped from the Harvard football schedule In her place a contest with Princeton is to be taken on. This is what will happen in 1911, although of course, the official schedules will not be announced until after the football season of 1910 is ended

Plans of Princeton and Harvard graduates that have been gradually developing for the last five or six years have at last materialized, and, while not officially announced, the fight for the gridiron honors in the east next year will be a three-cornered one between the great natural rivals—Harvard, Yale and Princeton

Such a schedule adopted by Harvard will practically put Dartmouth off the football map The Hanover team already has been dropped by Princeton and Brown, and will never be taken on by Yale according to all information that has been forthcoming from New Haven

What date will be given Princeton on the Harvard schedule is a question As Yale and Princeton meet on the date that has come to be ended to the Dartmouth-Harvard game, it cannot take place then

The reason given for the dropping of Dartmouth and the taking on of Princeton by Harvard is that old grudges of the [illegible] that the Tiger is more her natural foe on the football field Also they remember well the old struggles for supremacy on the gridiron that took place annually until 1899 and during the break with Yale in 1895 and 1896

Since then Harvard and the Orange and Black warriors have not clashed, as when friendly relations were once more patched up with Yale after the break the Harvard athletic powers thought that two games of such importance as those with Princeton and Yale would be too much of a tax on the players as they would necessarily have to come close together

The Harvard Dartmouth clash has been an annual affair since 1901 Dartmouth was easy in the old days and in order to win the Harvard players did not have to be on edge Times have changed since then and Dartmouth gradually growing stronger has given the Crimson players nearly as hard a struggle as has Yale For this reason the taking on of Princeton would make the schedule no tougher than it was last year or will be this season

While the dropping of Dartmouth and the taking on of Princeton may be decided by the Harvard athletic powers, it is looked upon as a certainty by a number of Harvard [illegible] and already is regarded a fact at Princeton

MAY PLAY OPENING MATCH THIS YEAR

LONDON, Aug 26—The Lawn Tennis association today cabled to Dr. James Dwight, president of the United States Lawn Tennis association, and to President Hoskins of the Australian Tennis association, asking if it would be agreeable to both associations to have the preliminary matches between the English and American challenging teams for the Dwight F. Davis cup played off this year

It had earlier been proposed to play off the preliminaries in Australia, but the Australian association declined to guarantee the money necessary for the expenses of the two teams on the ground that the proposed British team was not sufficiently strong.

The final matches for the cup, of which the Australians are the defenders for the third successive year, will be played in December

Long Schedule May Stop the World Series This Fall

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—There is no absolute certainty that there will be a series for the championship of the world this fall, though a clause of the agreement under which the National and American leagues are now working in peace, but not in harmony, calls for an annual set of contests between the flag winners of the two big organizations The club owners of the junior body think that it is about time for the magnates of the parent organization to realize that the present prosperity of the game is due more to them than to the men who once had to sue for mercy, and that it will only serve Charles W. Murphy, owner of the Cubs, who are the likely flag winners of the National league, right if the series is called off.

Murphy is not liked by the progressive Johnsonites, and the schedule he framed up last winter to comprise 168 games and to extend to October 15, was not relished by the American leaguers, who avowed that 154 games per season was all that fans could digest and that it was the height of asininity to compel the pastimers to work in championship ball until their contracts had expired on October 15.

There is not now, and there has not been for a long time, the best of feeling between the American and National magnates. The men who control clubs in the junior league will do whatever President Johnson tells them to do, and they resented last winter and last spring the plan of the Murphy-Ebbetts faction of the National league first to elect John Montgomery Ward as the senior league's president, and secondly to put through the 168-game schedule The insurgent Johnsonites carried their first point and defeated Ward, but in the interest of harmony they agreed to compromise on the schedule proposition, warning the men who wanted to elect Ward and who advocated the long schedule that the fault would be theirs if the world's championship series was not played

If there is any trouble coming the American leaguers think they might as well have it next fall as next winter They can properly refuse to let their flag-winning team enter the world's series, pointing to the fact that the National leaguers had practically violated the peace agreement by adopting a schedule that does not end until October 15.

There will be some series, however, between National and American league clubs this fall. The Cleveland and Cincinnati clubs already have entered into an agreement to battle for the championship of Ohio. In case the Pirates and Athletics fail to finish first in their respective races, they will clash to see which is the best club in Pennsylvania The way things point now is that the Cubs, if they win the National league pennant, will be able to claim the world's championship by default, for the American league team will not be permitted to play them The American league's reason will be that the Cubs do not wind up their season until October 15, six days after the Johnsonites close, and that Mr. Murphy is persona non grata to their club owners The Johnsonites think that the proper way to deal the little president a blow that will hurt is by hitting him in the pocketbook

Futurity to Be Run August 31

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 26.—The largest racing crowd of the eastern season will come to Saratoga August 31 to witness the running of the great futurity, transplanted from Sheepshead Bay. Special trains will be run from as far distant as Montreal.

Indications at this time point to a field of 15 horses going to the post. R. F. Carman's Sempronius is not eligible, neither is Round The World, but most of the other good youngsters of the season are likely to go to the post for a brilliant struggle of six furlongs. The value of the futurity will be $35,230, of which the winner's share will be something like $26,000. Fourteen horses are still eligible for the rich prize, but those likely to go to the post are as follows.

GRAND CIRCUIT CLOSES WEEK OF SENSATIONS

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—After a session which has been successful beyond all expectations of the promoters, the grand circuit meeting, which has been in progress at Yonkers this week, closed this afternoon. The racing each day has been marked by some unusual performances.

On Tuesday it was Colorado E's defeat of Native Belle, the hope of the east Wednesday The Harvester went a sensational mile in 2:03. Yesterday Willy, a Hungarian-bred trotter, carried off the big end of the $2,500 amateur stake in a field of six starters. Willy is owned by Louis W Winans, a Baltimore millionaire, now racing in England, and who last week paid Sam Hildreth $60,000 for Dalmatian

The closing card was regarded as the strongest of the meet and included the pacing division of the $15,000 Matron Futurity, the $2,500 Bonner memorial stakes, the $2,500 union stakes and the final race for the $2,500 speedway stake.

DOCTOR VEIN SHIPS AGAIN

RICH SHOOT FOUND IN SUPPOSED FOOTWALL.

Ore Averages $40 a Ton With Little Sorting—Little May Lessees Over Line.

Special to The Gazette

CRIPPLE CREEK, Aug. 26.—A shipment of four cars, containing about 120 tons of ore of an average value of two ounces gold or $40 a ton, was billed out today from the Doctor-Jack Pot company's property on Raven hill to the credit of Lessee Whitford and associates.

Whitford recently opened up a rich ore shoot by drift carried into the supposed foot wall of the Doctor vein as exposed in the old Doctor incline shaft. A shoot has been developed for a distance of about 63 feet, and the ore as broken across three to four feet of vein matter is shipped, with practically no sorting except the throwing out of boulders of waste carried in the vein.

The strike is the more important for the owning corporation, from the fact that the ground north of the incline has been but little prospected, and the shoot first exposed at the 400-foot level is expected to continue to near surface.

Standard Tunnel Shipment.

W. J. Wilkie and associates, leasing from the El Paso Consolidated company on the Little May mine, through the Standard tunnel, was shipping again today. Wilkie has opened up high grade ore by crosscut from the tunnel level, and today's shipment, a car of screenings, is estimated at better than two-ounce ore.

James F. Smith, United States deputy mineral surveyor, representing the Hiawatha in the survey made yesterday, states that the lines as originally carried are correct, and the Little May lessees are over the line. It is understood that Superintendent Blanchard of the Metallic Gold Mining company, operating the Hiawatha under bond and lease, has ordered his mine carpenters to construct a bulkhead. The bulkhead will permit of the circulation of air, through the Little May and Hiawatha workings, but will prevent trespass.

Strike in Nightingale.

Frank Seeley of Victor, leasing from the Stratton estate on the Favorite, Molly McGuire and Nightingale lode mining claims, has opened up a confined but rich vein at the 150-foot level of the Nightingale, and is saving ore that shows an abundance of free gold. The vein encountered at the 150-foot level of the old shaft on the Nightingale will not exceed 18 inches in width, but the ore therefrom is of smelting grade. The Nightingale claims extend from Bull to Raven hill, and Seeley is on the north end on the Bull hill side.

Milhoan and Mart operating the block on Raven hill, were hoisting ore today. These lessees have opened up the extension of the ore shoot first exposed on the Maggie mine on Raven hill by Lessee Carl Johnson. Johnson is mining high-grade ore and is making production of about two cars of ore each week.

Brooklyn Ore of Good Grade.

Anderson and Larson, who recently made a surface strike on the Brooklyn claim on Bull hill owned as is the Nightingale by the Stratton estate, are in receipt of returns from a two-car shipment of ore or about 50 tons, pulled out by windlass from their shallow shaft. The ore brought settlement at the rate of $54 a ton.

STOCKS STRONGER ON LIGHT TRADING

NEW YORK, Aug 26.—On the smallest overturn in business this week today's stock market made a general recovery from the declines of yesterday when rumors of frost in the northwest precipitated a general selling movement. These rumors were dispelled today and the decline in corn options resulted in a strong recovery. The character of the trading, however, together with its more than ordinary narrow range, render serious discussion unnecessary.

Business during the noon hour amounted to about 14,000 shares. The influential interests continued their policy of inactivity and the manipulation for the rise in certain stocks was so obvious as to work its own defeat.

Americans rallied in the London market and there was later buying here. Foreign exchange here ruled easier.

Indications point to a small cash gain by the banks in their operations with the subtreasury for the week, but inasmuch as many direct shipments of currency have been made to interior points and Canada, the supposed gain may readily be turned into a loss.

Bank clearings in the aggregate all over the country show a continued shrinkage, the loss for the week being over 20 per cent compared with last year. The reduced volume of clearings is again chiefly due to the marked falling off in this city, while Chicago, Pittsburg, Cleveland, Baltimore, Kansas City and San Francisco all report increases.

The bond market was steady. Total sales, par value, $763,000.

TRADE SITUATION RATHER IRREGULAR

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

House trade continues to expand at leading markets, food crop advices are more favorable, iron and steel trade reports display a better undertone, the movement of wheat is heavy, buyers' excursions are general, and collections show a little improvement. However, the general situation remains rather irregular, in that current trade reports the country over are not uniformly favorable. Thus those from the west and southwest tell of activity in fall buying, returns from the south indicate only slight improvement, while those from the northwest are characterized as satisfactory and eastern advices suggest that conservatism is still prevalent.

Aside from the fear that cooler weather toward the close of the week would injure corn, the general crop report this week was of continued improvement except for cotton in Texas.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending August 25 were 235 against 223 last week, 201 in the like week of 1909, 236 in 1908, 167 in 1907, and 138 in 1906.

CORN LOSES GAIN; WHEAT ALSO EASIER

CHICAGO, Aug 26.—The wheat market was easy all day, sagging to close ⅛c to ¼c down. Corn fell away sharply, relieved from the fear of immediate frost damage, finishing ⅜c to 1⅛c off. Oats felt the drag of the weak corn market and also sagged ⅛c to ⅜c while an unimportant trade in provisions left them generally unchanged in price.

The wheat pit was unimpressive with no marked bearish or bullish stimulus. The slump in corn, the reverse of yesterday's performance when shorts rushed to cover on fears of immediate frost damage, took the strain off the bulls and fluctuations were comparatively narrow with a downward tendency. Receipts here and in the northwest were large. The close was easy all around with September ⅛@¼c to ¼c down at 98⅞c after having moved between 99⅝c and 98½c. December closed ⅛c to ¼@⅜c off at $1.03⅛.

Shorts who hastened to cover their lines of corn yesterday when frost was expected, resold today when higher temperatures were reported from the growing fields. The opening was sharply lower and the bulls were unable later in the session to force values much away from the low point, although resting orders on the early decline stayed the market. Country offerings were limited and cash corn was ¾@1c lower. No. 2 yellow sold at 61¾@62¼c. The close was weak with September 1⅛c off at 60½c. December closed ⅝c off at 36⅛c.

Oats were affected by the weakness in corn, but fell away less sharply. Cash oats declined ¼c to ½c, and September was heavy. The close was weak and near the bottom with September ⅛c off at 34⅛c. December closed ⅜c off at 36½s.

Pork finished 2½c up to 10c down; lard was unchanged to 5c down; ribs, 2½c to 5c up. Closing prices for the September products were: Pork, $21.02½, 10c down; lard, $11.97½, unchanged; ribs, $12.35, 5c up.

They Have a Definite Purpose

Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief in cases of kidney and bladder ailments. Mrs Rose Glaser, Terre Haute, Ind., tells the result in her case. "After suffering for many years from a serious case of kidney trouble and spending much money for so called cures, I found Foley Kidney Pills the only medicine that gave me a permanent cure. I am again able to be up and attend to my work. I shall never hesitate to recommend them." Sold by all druggists.

DESERVES HERO MEDAL

SEDAN, Kan., Aug. 26.—The 2-year-old child of John Burch, a farmer near this city, fell into a cistern containing five feet of water. Mrs. Burch jumped into the cistern and held the child above the water eight hours, until her husband, returning from his work, found her. She collapsed after being rescued and is dangerously ill. The child suffered no illness. Friends will apply for a Carnegie hero medal for Mrs. Burch.

S.S.S. CURES OLD SORES

S. S. S. cures Old Sores in the very simplest way. It just goes into the circulation and removes the poisons and impurities which are keeping the place open. Then the sore or ulcer heals because the infected flesh tissues receive nourishment and healing properties from the blood, instead of irritating, disease-laden germs. Every symptom of an old sore suggests diseased blood. The inflammation, discharge, discolored flesh around the ulcer and the fact that it resists every form of local treatment, and even returns after being removed by surgical operation, indicates to what a great extent the blood is polluted. S. S. S. removes every trace of poison or infectious matter from the circulation and makes the blood stream pure, rich and healthy. S. S. S. reaches hereditary taints, and those who are suffering from an old sore, which came without any apparent cause could not do better than take a course of this great blood medicine to remove the inherited taint. S. S. S. cures old sores for the one simple reason that it purifies the blood. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

NO DISGUISE.

From Punch

The carnival at Brinemouth was a huge success Gussie was one of the subscribing visitors and enjoyed himself immensely even although many of the fair revelers wore masks of fantastic and peculiar designs.

One lady in particular attracted Gussie's attention She wore a red Wellington nose and cheeks of Clarkson manufacture, but these doubtful attractions were compensated for by her sylph-like form and fairy-like movements

Gussie like the ass he was, made the running assiduously and, seizing a favorable chance, piloted the lady to a secluded corner

"Give me a kiss," he breathed into her ear, "go on, take off your mask and give me a kiss"

"Sir!" cried the lady, indignantly, "I am not wearing a mask!"

ONE REASON WHY RECIPES FAIL

From the New York Tribune

Cooking in very high mountain regions is a very different thing from cooking at sea levels The ingredients in made dishes have to be put together in different proportions, owing to the difference in atmospheric pressure. Recipes for cake that had proved completely successful in New York turned out forlorn failures in the Rocky mountains especially when the cake was rich in butter The latter simmered like candy or ran out on the bottom of the pan
